Patti Angle smiles while standing by her hot-dog stand outside of Old Town Hall on Main Street. Although she and Jim Angle have another business to attend to, Andover Beauty Supply, they say they enjoy making lunch for people who seem happy to have it available.

Frankly speaking, this cart's no dog

By Neil Fater

The owners of Andover Beauty Supply have a new product – hot dogs. And they're not even the turkey kind.

Instead, they're good, old-fashioned, all-beef, natural-casing, surround-with-mustard and stain-your-shirt hot dogs.

Why would Jim and Patti Angle, the operators of a beauty shop, peddle such wares within shouting distance of their shop at the corner of Main and Barnard streets?

"I just think it's something that Andover people are happy to have here," said Ms. Angle, who believes her hot-dog cart adds to the small-town feel of the area.

"It's growing on a daily basis because we're in front of the Old Town Hall" every day, she said. "It's a regular treat for someone here, maybe on a Monday or a Wednesday."

Although the cart's been open only for a month or so, the Angles are beginning to attract some regular customers, who hand over $1.50 per frank.

"I come here almost every other day if I can sneak out," said Joanne Giuffrida, who works downtown. "So now I can go sit at my desk and eat."

When the stand is open, usually between 10 a.m. and 3 p.m., the most common condiment request is for mustard and relish, said Ms. Angle. That may change.

Although health regulations make it unlikely the Angels will offer chili dogs, the couple said they are working on a secret sauce.

Thomas stepping down as AHS head

Cites family needs; will remain at High School, teaching math and science

By Don Staruk

Tim Thomas, High School principal since 1991, has requested and been granted reassignment to a teaching position at the school. Ellen Parker, assistant principal, will be interim principal starting in September.

Mr. Thomas, 45, of 150 Main St., said this week that he was offered a new acceptable three-year contract by Superintendent Richard Neal, but that he decided for personal reasons not to accept it and requested the change instead.

"The time commitment that I've had to make has been out of balance with what I've felt I should be spending with my family," Mr. Thomas said Monday.

Committee not ready yet to appoint a new assistant superintendent

Position may remain vacant

By Don Staruk

The School Committee failed to appoint a new assistant superintendent of schools last week, and it is unclear exactly when that task will be taken up again. There is even talk of not filling the position.

"I don't know what's happening," Tina Girdwood, School Committee member, said Monday.

School Committee members interviewed the four finalists Tuesday evening, July 11. They were expected to choose a new assistant during a meeting the next night, but couldn't reach a consensus. Dick Neal, superin-

Emergency 911 system activated in Andover

By Don Staruk

Emergency help is now just three digits away for Andover residents.

At about noon yesterday, Wednesday, July 19, the new Enhanced-911 emergency telephone service was scheduled to be activated in town.

This means that if someone is choking, having a heart attack or facing any other emergency situation, all one has to do is Detective Patrolman James Haggerty, recipient of the Nicoll Award, collecting evidence at the site of a recent robbery in Andover.

James Haggerty receives Nicoll Award

By Don Staruk

The Andover Police Department named Detective Patrolman James Haggerty officer of the year for 1995 and presented him with the David L. Nicoll Award at last month's policemen's ball.

"The criteria for the award is supposed to be a good all-around officer... with a good attitude and who is above par on all counts," said Lieutenant John Houlihan, detective division commander.

Detective Haggerty played a key role in several cases during the past year, including a murder in which a Clinton man's body was found off Burtt Road in Lowell Junction. Another Clinton man was charged in the case.

"He was a key factor in solving that thing," Detective Donald Pattullo said of his partner.

Detective Haggerty helped solve the arson case at the Sea Train restaurant, which destroyed two businesses, and an arson fire at the Frost Co. on Andover Street in Ballardvale.

"Every one of these cases have a critical point and his expertise and ability to communicate with others was what made these come through," said Detective David Grant. "The town of Andover is lucky to have this guy here."

"He's demonstrated a great deal of enthusiasm in the division," Lt. Houlihan said. "He displays a lot of interest in the job."

During the Sea Train investigation, there were times when detectives were coming to dead ends. But Detective Haggerty continued talking to people and turned up some key information, which resulted in two people being charged.

Detective Haggerty resolved the arson case at the Frost Co. last year, and more recently identified four vandals who did more than $10,000 worth of damage to the same building this past May.

He and Detective Pattullo worked with Raytheon Co. security in identifying an employee accused of abducting a woman in Lawrence and assaulting her in the Raytheon Co. parking lot earlier this year. The victim later changed her story and charges were dropped.

Career

Detective Haggerty is a Vietnam veteran with three years in the Navy. He worked as a guard at Concord State prison for five years and at an electronics firm in Waltham before joining the Andover Police Department in March of 1985. He was credited at Concord with playing a key role in quelling a disturbance at the prison using patience and common sense in talking it out, according to Lt. Houlihan, who performed the background check on the new recruit.

Officer Haggerty completed academy training and worked the 1-9 a.m. shift five years. He was then brought into the detective division and assigned to the Essex County Drug Task Force working in Lawrence. He was

News In Brief

Book coming out on Andover's 350th

The town of Andover is about to have its 350th anniversary. To commemorate such an important event, the Andover Historical Society plans the publication, Andover, A Century of Change: 1896-1996. If you haven't ordered your book at the discount price, do so now. The book will be available Oct. 1.

Here is a selection in a series entitled "Some Andover Firsts" written by Eleanor Motley Richardson.

Town life

The first town sewer system construction began 1898. Town Meeting voted $80,000 for the project. The Andover Townsman reported in 1898 that Italians working on the new sewer were being paid 12½ cents per hour, or 13½ cents for experts. The Board of Public Works reported in 1903 that they had made 367 sewer connections.

The Eighth Annual Report of the Water Commissioners, Jan. 12, 1897, states, "The only proper and just way to equalize water rates, when more than one faucet is used on the same premises, is to measure the water used." The first water meters were introduced that year.

A trial week of electric street lighting was conducted in 1889. The first contract with Andover Electric for electric streetlights was made Sept. 21, 1891. The contract provided for 31 arc lamps at 1200 candle power each, and 56 incandescents at 25 candle power each. Lights would stay on until 12:30 a.m. Beyond that contract, Town Meeting had to vote for each new streetlight to be installed at a cost of $70 per year for arc lights, and $16 per year for incandescents. Articles for individual streetlights were posted on the warrants for years afterward.

Poles were set for the first electronic railway (trolley) from Andover to Lawrence in 1891. "A horse of contractor Locke was left hitched in front of the Tyer Rubber Factory. An electric car went by and startled the animal. The horse did considerable damage to the car before anyone could manage to settle him down."

The first electronic town fire alarm system was introduced in 1898. A telephone was installed between the pumping station and the superintendent's house for communication in case of fire. In its annual report, the Water Commission observed, "The telephone is also a very great convenience in the ordinary routine work."

The first Park Commission was created in 1898. Town Meeting voted to purchase Richardson field, corner of Chestnut and Bartlet streets, on March 6, 1899, for use as a public park. The first bandstand was built in the Park in 1910. Pomps Pond was first opened to the public August 1, 1923.

Selectmen were authorized to name the streets of the town formally for the first time in 1901. The first committee members were William Goldsmith, Samuel H. Boutwell and John S. Stark. They had first begun numbering the streets in 1894.

Columbus Day was first celebrated in 1910.

The Andover Historical Society, Andover's historical museum and research center, is at 97 Main St. and open 9 a.m. to 5 p.m., Monday through Friday during July and August. For more information, call 475-2236.

Selectmen will meet tonight, Thursday, instead of Monday

The Board of Selectmen will meet Thursday, 6:30-7:30 p.m., third floor of town offices to discuss playing fields, senior center and a recreation center. The meeting was scheduled for last Monday night but officials failed to post it so it was postponed.

There also will be a joint meeting, beginning at 7:30, with three boards, second floor of school administration building. The budget model is on the agenda.

Selectman Finegold to hold office hours

Selectman Barry R. Finegold will hold office hours Wednesday, July 26, at Memorial Hall Library from 6:30 to 7:30 p.m. Citizens are welcome to share their issues and concerns about the town. No appointment is necessary.

supposed to go with the taskforce for 10-12 weeks, but stayed for nine months.

Detective Haggerty has an associate's degree in criminal justice from Northeastern University. He and his wife, Susan, have three children – Shawn, 15; Patrick, 11; and Ryan, 10.

The David L. Nicoll Award is named after the department's former chief, who retired in 1980, and has been presented every year since 1981. The department's lieutenants and sergeants each nominate a candidate and the chief decides who will receive it.

Correction

Due to an editing error in last week's Townsman, Linda L. Clearly was incorrectly listed as a temporary summer employee of the town.

Ms. Cleary has actually been hired as a permanent part-time administrative secretary, grade S4, for the Conservation Division in the Community Development and Planning office.

6-year-old drowns over weekend at Pomps Pond

Dorchester boy was swimming after hours

By Don Staruk

A 6-year-old Dorchester boy drowned in Pomps Pond Sunday evening while swimming with his family and friends. The pond was closed at the time, so no lifeguard was on duty. The body of Alberto Brito was found at about 10:20 p.m., almost four hours after he was reported missing, in about 10 feet of water. He was pronounced dead a short time later at Lawrence General Hospital.

"He was found about 15 yards off the pier, to the left of the beach," Andover Police Lt. Phillip Froburg said.

Alberto had gone to the pond at about 6:30 p.m. with his mother, Josefa Santiago, 25, of Dorchester, her boyfriend, an older brother and a group of friends and family they had been visiting in Lawrence, according to police and fire officials. The older brother and other children went to swim in the area to the left of the beach, but Alberto said he wanted to play on the swings, which are to the right side of the swimming area, and went to do so. About 20 minutes later the adults noticed Alberto was missing and searched for him for 30 to 45 minutes. At 7:35 p.m. his mother went to the Andover police station and reported the child missing.

Police and fire department boats and personnel responded and began a water and land search of the area. Because they didn't know if Alberto was lost on land or in the water, state police K-9 units were called in along with divers from the state police and the Merrimack Valley Rescue Team.

Andover's auxiliary police assisted in the land search along with several Andover citizens, and the Tewksbury Fire Department supplied a unit to recharge the divers' air tanks. A Med-Flight helicopter provided a search light from above while state police and town lights were used to illuminate both land and water. Volunteers from the Red Cross also responded.

The boy's body was found face down in the water by divers Tony Forgetta and Tom Greenhalgh, both Merrimack Valley Rescue members. An autopsy performed Monday at Tewksbury State Hospital confirmed drowning as the cause of death, according to police.

After-hours use

Lifeguards are on duty at Pomps Pond during the summer from 11 a.m. to 6 p.m. seven days a week, except the last two weeks of August when the pond closes at 5 p.m. The procedure is to clear out the pond and lock the gate, according to Lt. Froburg.

The group that Alberto was a part of parked three cars up by the road, outside the gate, and walked down to the pond. Buzz Stapczynski, town manger, said he's not sure what can be done to prevent people from using the pond after hours.

"Staff has discussed it and we have got some ideas, perhaps signage in Spanish and that sort of thing," Mr. Stapczynski said.

The Spanish signs would state the same message as those in English: that the pond is closed, that there is no parking and no lifeguard on duty, and that trespassers do so at their own risk.

"Any kind of solution is difficult. The park is closed and we know people go down there and walk dogs, to fish, to canoe," Mr. Stapczynski said.

In the winter people skate and ice fish on the pond, he said, and it is fortunate nothing has happened before this, he said.

The beach meets state-health codes according to Mr. Stapczynski and Peg Campbell, Community Services program coordinator in charge of swimming programs at the pond.

"The town is not required to have an accredited swim area, but ours is," Ms. Campbell said this week.

Ms. Campbell said swim lessons are continuing at the pond in the wake of the drowning.

"I'm confident in the people we have working down there and the guards," Ms. Campbell said. "It's a tragedy. No matter how you look at it, it's a tragedy."

But she said it is also a reminder that no one should swim where there are no lifeguards on duty.

"Water (provides) a tremendous sense of pleasure, but it's a tremendous

E-911 comes to the rescue this week in Andover

pick up a phone and dial 911 for help.

Jack Reardon, spokesperson for E-911, warned that the system might not be fully functional until Friday, July 21.

"It will be under test for a period of 24 to 48 hours after turn-up," Mr. Reardon said.

"We don't want a call to be misdirected. We want to make sure there are no problems."

Once the system is on line and fully functional, a special line in Andover's Public Safety Center will be answered with "E-911. What is your emergency?" according to Sgt. Brian Pattullo, coordinator of the program in Andover.

When it is answered, the phone number and address of the caller will appear on the screen in the police station.

"It's definitely more accurate," Sgt. Pattullo said.

For E-911, what the emergency dispatcher will want to know is:

- The nature of the emergency;
- The name of the caller;
- Confirmation of the address of the emergency;
- A phone number to call back in case the line is disconnected.

Callers should use 911 for emergencies only, said Sgt. Pattullo. The former emergency number for Andover, 475-1212, will also reach the emergency operator. But for directions or general information, callers should still dial 475-0411.

A public information campaign will begin this Friday, after testing is complete and the system is fully operational. One thing callers should be aware of is that they don't need to dial the "E," just the 911.

Coming on line at the same time are Chelmsford, Dracut, Lawrence, Lowell, Methuen, North Andover and Westford.

THINGS THAT CRAWL

A Realtor has a couple looking at your home, and they are showing signs of being serious buyers. They love the house, they are mentally arranging their furniture in your living room, and they are talking about which lender they plan to use. Then the wife freezes – she notices a small, brown object moving in the kitchen sink!

Most Realtors can relate at least one story about a small insect squelching a sale. If you are planning to sell your home and you have even a minor bug problem, get it handled. Call your local "Bug Busters" and have the house professionally exterminated if necessary.

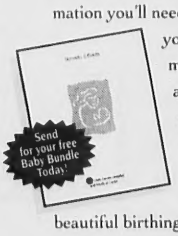

Whether it is roaches, ants, fleas or spiders, their absence will make your home sell more quickly. It is virtually impossible for your agent to create the mood necessary to get buyers excited about the property if there is a bug problem. Even if you are the type who hates killing any living creature, it is a good idea to make an exception when it comes to bugs when your house is on the market.

If you are considering a move, contact the professionals at Century 21 Carriage House. Call us at 475-1243, or stop by our office at 10 High Street.

Mr. Stapczynski was one of those who responded to the scene Sunday night and took part in the search for Alberto.

"I was there for several hours," he said.

There were a lot of young people there along with the various state agencies, he said.

"A lot of people were assisting," Mr. Stapczynski said.

Ms. Campbell arrived later, just after Alberto had been removed from the water.

Disabilities group seeks several volunteers

The Andover Commission on Disability (ACOD) is still seeking townspeople to serve. Send resume and brief letter of introduction to Mark Walker, c/o N.I.L.P., 20 Ballard Road, Lawrence, Mass. 01843-1018 by July 31.

ACOD will meet Wednesdays, July 26; and Aug. 9, 23, at Town Offices, 36 Bartlet St., from 6 to 8 p.m. Agenda items will include membership, awareness and 1996 goals and bylaws.

The ACOD seeks to address issues concerning Andover and its citizens with disabilities. Call at 687-4288.

Smith and Nephew forms a new company

Smith and Nephew, the worldwide healthcare group, has announced the formation of Smith & Nephew Endoscopy, working in arthroscopic surgical devices. Smith & Nephew Endoscopy combines the product and marketing resources of Smith & Nephew Dyonics and the newly-acquired Acufex Microsurgical Inc.

Smith and Nephew announced on May 15 that it would buy Acufex Microsurgical Inc. from American Home Products Corp. for $141 million.

Smith and Nephew Endoscopy says it will offer the most comprehensive and diversified line of arthroscopic instrumentation and surgical imaging devices. The firm will be organized as a single company, reflecting its major product brandlines: Acufex, Dyonics and Dyonics Video. Dyonics and Acufex had combined FY 1994 revenues in excess of $200 million.

Smith & Nephew Dyonics President Charles W. Federico will continue as the new company's president.

Smith & Nephew Endoscopy's headquarters will be in Andover with manufacturing facilities in Andover and Mansfield and Oklahoma City, Okla. Combined worldwide employment will be more than 800.

Underground Music business opens in town

By Don Staruk

It is not that unusual for a new business to go under, but it's less common for one to start there. In choosing a name, Tom Aylward took advantage of the subterranean location for his new music store, below street level in the Barnard Building at 10-16 Main St.

Underground Music, which carries CDs, cassette tapes, vinyl records along with sheet music and other "musical giftware," opened three weeks ago, on June 22, just in time for downtown's Bazaar Days.

Rather than try to minimize the basement location, a good mix of lighting and decor highlight the exposed stones that make up the building's foundation and bring attention to it.

Along with music the store has drum sticks, harmonicas, headphones, T-shirts, miniature instruments, clocks, pins, posters and blank video tapes. It even sells sheet- music toilet paper.

"I've got pogs and sunglasses," Mr. Aylward says.

But music is its main business.

"I carry every genre of music."

He has used-CDs for $8, a market he believes is going to be huge. And he carries a limited selection of vinyl albums, "a niche for collectors."

"I'm concentrating mainly on pop rock," Mr. Aylward says, which constitutes 36 percent of music sales, according to Billboard magazine. He also has country music, which accounts for 16 percent of sales in the country. He keeps Billboard's weekly top 10 CDs on sale for $11.98.

"I probably have in here 7,000 titles," Mr. Aylward says. "And I order on a daily basis."

Mr. Aylward and his wife, Sandy, of 7 Durham Drive, have lived in Andover 20 years, the first 18 on Ballardvale Road. Ms. Aylward, a teacher in Methuen, has been very supportive of her husband's new venture, according to Mr. Aylward. And their children, Jennifer, 17, a senior at Andover High, and Sean, 15, who will start his first year at AHS this fall, work in the store.

Sean plays in his own band, Harold and the Purple Crayons, which his father says plays "alternative" music such as that of Green Day and REM.

Mr. Aylward says he grew up listening to folk music – Peter, Paul and Mary, the Eagles and America – but he also listened to Led Zeplin and other rock bands of that period. He likes classical and some new-age music – such as that of Enya.

"I think I like all kinds of music," he says. "I brought in everything so I can see where I can be valuable to the community."

Mr. Aylward knew special orders would be one of the niches he could fill here. "I can get anything in almost the next day," he says.

He hopes parents will shop at Underground for gifts for their kids and for themselves.

Mr. Aylward was in corporate sales and marketing 20 years. He worked for Xerox, then started his own outsourcing company, Advanced Data Reprographics, operating copy centers in large offices on a contract basis. He stayed with the company after selling it in the late 1980s and again when the larger company was purchased by Pitney Bowes Management Services in 1993. Then about a year ago he found he "didn't any longer enjoy the corporate challenge."

He'd often thought about having his own smaller business and, after extensive research, decided to go with the music store.

"It just seems like I've got the right product at the right place at the right time," he says. "I know what people like and it's super service – somebody who's very friendly who will give you whatever you need."

It was a little bit "scary" for him to do the retailing at first, but the mix of businesses in the Barnard Building and the employees in those businesses have been very helpful, he says.

"Everybody is willing to give out coupons and share the wealth."

A dentist office will soon open across the hall downstairs. Other businesses already in the building include: The Nailery, Coffee Connection, Bruegger's Bagel Bakery, Vincenzo's Restorante, Cristina's Designer Fashions, Silverado Athletic Club, Athlete's Corner and a few professional offices. Underground Music is open 10 a.m.-8 p.m. Monday through Friday; 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. Saturdays; and noon to 5 p.m. Sundays.

IRA WATCH

While it is commendable that many working people avail themselves of the opportunity of putting money away for retirement in Individual Retirement Accounts (IRAs) and other savings plans, they may not be choosing the appropriate investment vehicles for their money. In fact, the Investment Company Institute reports that 25% of the $857.4 billion in IRA and Keogh money is mired in federally insured bank and S&L accounts, which yield modest returns that are vulnerable to inflation. IRA money would be better off invested in vehicles that offer growth opportunities than in these secure, low-yielding investments. To make matters worse, a Federal Reserve Board study shows that 47.2% of 3,906 households put at least part of their IRA funds in uninsured bank accounts. Much retirement planning is long-term planning. Ibbotson Associates in Chicago, which generates much research that is of interest to the investment community, reports that in 100% of the 15 year periods since 1907, clients would have made more money in the stocks of large companies than anywhere else. So, many of us should re-examine the investments we select for our retirement planning.

Did you know that the younger you are the more aggressive your investments should be? The logic here is that the longer you are in the market, the less affected you are by short term fluctuations in the marketplace. We at BAYSTATE FINANCIAL SERVICES can help you achieve your financial planning objectives. Since 1901 we have worked hard to meet the financial needs of our clients. HINT: Individuals more than 10 years away from retirement should certainly keep two-thirds or more of their IRA money in moderate-risk or aggressive growth stock funds that have historically beaten the Dow Jones Industrial Average over the last 10 years or so.

Charges filed without finding in bra-waving incident

By Joan Brown and Don Staruk

Charges against Yvonne Nicoletti – the Andover High School senior arrested last October after a bra-waving incident – were filed without a finding Monday, July 10, in Lawrence District Court.

"That's not a conviction; that's not an acquittal," said Steve O'Connell, of the Essex County district attorney's office. "Should she get into further trouble, we would still be able to bring this case forward."

Both the county district attorney and the defense attorney agreed to accept this filing, said Mary Doyle, assistant district attorney. No time limit was set in the filing, but Ms. Doyle said that the case would probably not be revived.

The district attorney's decision not to go to trial was based on Ms. Nicoletti's behavior and achievements since the arrest, Ms. Doyle said. "We believe this was the appropriate disposition," said Mr. O'Connell.

Ms. Nicoletti graduated last June in good standing and caused no further trouble on school property. "Yvonne completed school without any incidents and was a model school citizen from that time on," said Tim Thomas, AHS principal.

Mr. Thomas was not involved in the district attorney's decision, according to Ms. Doyle. Reports published earlier this week erroneously stated that it was Mr. Thomas' decision not to further pursue the criminal case.

"Certainly I didn't make a decision not to pursue it," Mr. Thomas said Monday. He was present at the time of arrest, and at that time said Ms. Nicoletti's actions were disturbing the education of least 400 students.

The arrest

Ms. Nicoletti was arrested last fall as she stood on The Rock – outside the front door of Andover High School – waving her brassiere over her head. Charged with "disturbance of schools," she spent about three hours in a jail cell at the police station before being released on bail.

Her actions came after Ellen Parker, assistant principal, asked Ms. Nicoletti to either change or cover her shirt. Ms. Parker considered Ms. Nicoletti's shirt – a White Zombie, rock band, T-shirt featuring a cartoon drawing of two clothed, large-breasted women – "inappropriate" for school.

Ms. Parker also gave Ms. Nicoletti the option of going home to change. Ms. Nicoletti left, but instead of going home, she returned to class.

Her parents were then contacted and Ms.

Day Surgery

IN & OUT FOR SAME DAY SERVICE

The LGH community is your family and ours.

COMFORT

The winter was long and hard and our son Alex had a sore throat it seemed all through the season. At our last visit to the pediatrician, the doctor suggested a tonsillectomy. She made arrangements for the Day Surgery team at Lawrence General to do the procedure. Off we went on a bright and sunny Tuesday morning in early spring. The staff made Alex feel special. They understood that while this might be one of hundreds of tonsillectomies they'd do this year, it was the only one our son was going to have. And the fact that he'd be in and out in one day made it so much easier on him and on us.

RESPECT

The doctors and nurses explained everything to us. I was especially impressed with the way they spoke directly to Alex. Being treated that way really seemed to calm him. But what mattered most was the way they treated our family. They used a smile as well as they used their high-tech surgical equipment, and it sure worked for us.

Nicoletti left the school area with them. Her parents returned her to the school an hour later, "realizing that I was right and would never be able to respect myself if I couldn't stand up for my beliefs," stated Ms. Nicoletti after the arrest.

First Amendment rights

Disputed by the district attorney and defense attorney was the role of the First Amendment in the case. According to both Ms. Doyle and the Andover Police Department, Ms. Nicoletti's rights to free speech and to wear the shirt were not factors in her arrest.

"That wasn't my call," said Patrolman Robert Cronin, the arresting officer. "When we arrived at the scene at the request of the principal, there was clearly a disruption in progress."

He asked Ms. Nicoletti to leave, but he said she refused, stating that she wanted to stay until she had her picture taken.

"She was placed under arrest because she was disruptive," said Officer Cronin. He said her disruption of the education process at the school was in violation of state law.

She was suspended from school, but returned a week later after negotiations with school officials, her parents and her attorney, John Reinstein, director of the Massachusetts chapter of the American Civil Liberties Union.

"They tried to make the disturbance act a First Amendment issue, and they are two separate issues," said Ms. Doyle.

Representatives of the ACLU disagree.

"The First Amendment was very much a factor in the whole situation," said Anthony Doniger, attorney for the ACLU and representing Ms. Nicoletti. "She was protesting. That was the exercise of her First Amendment rights."

Ms. Nicoletti's protest on The Rock went on for about a half hour without disruption before police were called to the school, according Mr. Doniger. "We maintain that whatever disturbance was made at the school was made by the police cars driving in, not by Yvonne."

Four police cruisers responded to the scene.

Ms. Nicoletti agreed to the filing as it was presented by the district attorney – with no conditions of probation or change of plea.

"She was delighted. Effectively, the case has been thrown out," said Mr. Doniger. He said the only thing she was disappointed about was that this wasn't done six months ago.

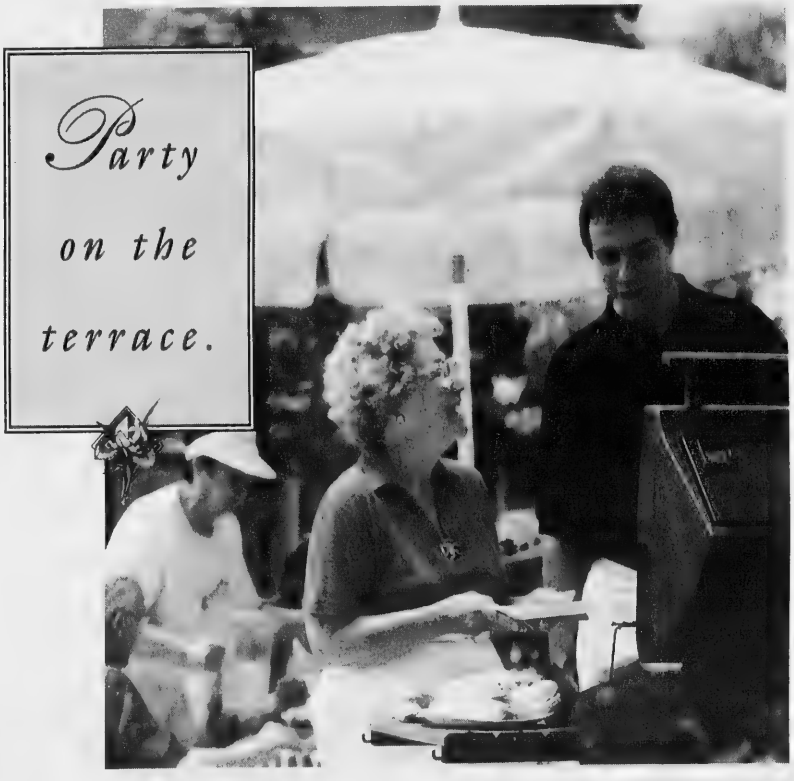

Ms. Nicoletti has an unlisted phone and was unable to be reached for comment.

The case received national attention last winter when MTV broadcast coverage of the story.

Juliet Mofford edits new book on Salem witch trials

Discovery Enterprises of Carlisle has published its newest book on issues of American history in its Perspectives on History Series. Cry "Witch!": The Salem Witch Trials of 1692 consists of original period documents selected, edited and interpreted by Juliet Haines Mofford, an Andover resident.

Ms. Mofford, formerly a teacher and reference librarian at Stevens Memorial Library in North Andover, is cultural director for the Lowell Historic Preservation Commission. She has published three other books on Merrimack Valley history, two of which received national awards from the American Association for State and Local History.

Ms. Mofford has been researching the Salem trials since discovering Andover's significant role in the witchcraft episode while working on And Firm Thine Ancient Vow, The History of North Parish/North Andover. She has directed a panel on the Andover connection to the Trials of 1692 at Salem College's Tercentenary Conference and lectures at historical societies for the New England Heritage Center Speakers Bureau.

Her article about Andover's own "Queen of Hell," Martha Allen Carrier, was published in The Eagle-Tribune as part of her biographical series during the Bicentennial. Her feature articles on education, history and travel have been published in The New York Times, Christian Science Monitor, Chicago Tribune, Tropic Magazine, and Travel/Holiday. She was a stringer for The Boston Globe and Scholastic Teacher magazines.

Few realize that more people were arrested as witches in 1692 from Andover than from any other town. Andover also had the highest number of witchcraft confessions as well as the most children accused of what was then a capital crime. Cry "Witch!" includes excerpts from local cases such as Mary Osgood, the deacon's wife, one of the women arrested at Andover's Touch Test; William Barker, who claimed he was tempted by Satan because he had trouble supporting his "great family"; Samuel Wardwell, who had a reputation for fortune-telling; and Mary Allen Toothaker, who made a deal with the Devil so he would protect her family from Native American attacks. Here, also, is the heartbreaking testimony of 7½-year-old Sarah Carrier, who helped send her mother to the gallows by telling the judges Martha made her become a witch too. A section of the Rev. Francis Dane's letter to the court also appears. This senior minister was one of the few people of his time who did not believe in witchcraft and the Devil's conspiracy to take over Massachusetts Bay Colony. Among his family members arrested in 1692 was Abigail Faulkner, the convicted witch who escaped the hangman's noose only because

Feds bullied New Balance for $1 million

KEN JOHNSON Hitting Home

C. Steven Baker, director of the Federal Trade Commission office in Chicago, took pains to state the agency was not seeking monetary damages from New Balance Athletic Shoe Inc.

The office, in its pursuit of false labeling charges against the shoemaker, merely wanted New Balance to remove the "Made in the U.S.A." tag from its sneakers.

But what about the nearly $1 million New Balance spent fighting the charges before the FTC suddenly reversed itself last week and backed off the case?

"Did they spend a million?" Mr. Baker mused. "They have had and have always had an opportu-

NEWS FOR SENIOR CITIZENS

By Katherine Urquhart interim coordinator

Stay cool

It is important to use caution during periods of extreme heat during the summer months. Wear lightweight clothing, drink plenty of fluids, reduce activities, try to stay inside where it is cool.

If you don't have air conditioning, stop in the Senior Center, which is cool. We are open Monday through Friday, 8 a.m.-4 p.m. If there were to be an extended heat wave, we could extend our hours for those who need relief from the heat.

Acts of kindness

We have offers of donated air conditioners as part of our "Random Acts of Kindness" campaign. We may be of assistance if your doctor recommends that you use one. Give me a call at 470-3800, Ext. 296.

Exercise equipment

A few weeks ago I was wondering how we could acquire some exercise equipment to set up a mini gym at the center. A call came in asking if we would accept the donation of an exercise bike that had never been used. Of course, we said yes. It wasn't in the door five minutes when one of the seniors, age 87, was up and peddling. Perhaps you have some equipment that has been gathering dust, which could be put to good use.

Will Rogers Follies

Upcoming events: North Shore Music Theater Will Rogers Follies Wednesday, Aug. 23. The bus will leave at 12:30 p.m. The cost is $33 for round-trip transportation and show.

Potluck supper

A potluck supper will be held Tuesday, Aug. 8, from 4-6 p.m. Bring your special dish. Sign-up sheets are at the center.

Sizzle party

A "summer sizzle" party, with seafood salad and other cool luncheon specialties, will be held Tuesday, Aug. 15, from 11:30 a.m.-2 p.m., followed by karaoke.

SENIOR MENUS

The following meals will be served to senior citizens next week at the Senior Center, located at Whittier Court:

Monday: Beef Wellington, mashed potatoes, vegetable, chilled pineapple.

Tuesday: Turkey, gravy, whipped potatoes, carrots, ice cream.

Wednesday: Salisbury steak, onion gravy, rice, corn, fresh fruit.

Thursday: Roast pork loin, gravy, potato wedges, green beans, cake with frosting.

Friday: Fried shrimp, french fries, coleslaw, pudding with topping.

For reservation, call 470-3830 before 2 p.m. on the business day before the lunch you plan to attend. Fried chicken will be served Monday, July 31, and roast round of beef on Tuesday, Aug. 1.

Jaime Weida, daughter of Dr. Alexandria Weida of Skopelos Circle, is one of 35 Boston University team members who will create a satellite, the first of its kind at the university. The satellite will be launched into space in the spring of 1997 from Vandenberg Air Force Base near Lompoc, Calif.

Working at the Center for Space Physics at Boston University, Ms. Weida and her team were awarded a $4.1 million grant from the University Space Research Association to launch the satellite into space.

Boston University competed against 66 proposals from 43 teams, representing collaborations among universities, industrial enterprises and government laboratories nationwide.

Boston University's satellite, known as TERRIERS, for Tomographic Experiment using Radiative Recombinative Ionospheric EUV and Radio Sources, uses a combination of ground-based and space instruments to make daily, global upper-atmospheric measurements. TERRIERS data will provide a new and invaluable view of many of the physical processes going on in the earth's atmosphere and near-space environment.

The USRA, a private agency that serves as a liaison between universities and the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, developed the Student Explorer program to show that high-quality space missions can be accomplished quickly at a lower cost by utilizing students and entry-level scientists. Boston University graduate and undergraduate students are an integral part of the instrument development, assembly, testing and mission operations of the satellite.

Ms. Weida is a sophomore majoring in astrophysics. The 1994 graduate of Andover High School designed all the production materials for the presentation of TERRIERS and is responsible for the spacecraft's electronics.

Andover High class of 1995 was accepted at a wide range of colleges

Andover High School seniors were admitted to a number of colleges and universities this year, representing a broad spectrum in both geography and academic demands. Upon receiving their acceptances, more and more students and their families are making that final decision after comparing financial-aid packages.

"With the escalating costs of higher education this may mean foregoing the more prestigious institution for the academically selective college offering a generous financial aid package," according to Ruby Easton, chairwoman of the counseling department.

The class of 1995 will attend colleges in a wide geographic area but a recent trend is to consider more southern institutions. Favorable weather and slightly lower tuition costs may influence this change.

Consistent with the statistics of recent years, approximately 13 percent of the graduating class will enter the state university system, attending either University of Massachusetts Amherst, one of the satellite campuses, or a state college.

It is the norm for students to make multiple applications to colleges selecting a range of colleges from "reach" to "fairly certain." A senior at AHS will apply to an average of six or more schools. Each year the counseling department at AHS processes more than 1,400 applications.

This year's AHS seniors were admitted to the following colleges:

Allegheny, American University, Amherst, Arizona State, Art Institute of Boston, Assumption, Babson, Baldwin-Wallace, Bates, Bay State, Bentley, Boston College, Boston University, Bowdoin, Bradford, Brandeis University, Bridgewater State, Brown University, Bryant, Bucknell University, Carnegie Mellon University, Case Western Reserve University, Castleton State, Catholic University of America, Clark University, Coe, Colby, Colby Sawyer, Colgate University, College of Santa Fe, College of the Holy Cross, College of William and Mary, Colorado College, Colorado State, Connecticut College, Cornell University, Curry, Dartmouth, Dean, Dickinson, Duke University, Duquesne University, Earlham, Eckherd, Elizabethtown, Elon, Emory University, Evergreen,

Fairfield University, Fashion Institute/SUNY, Fitchburg State, Flagler, Florida A&M University, Framingham State, Franklin and Marshall, Furham, George Mason University, George Washington University seven-year medical program, Georgetown University, Gettysburg, Goucher, Guilford, Hamilton, Hartwick, Harvard University, Hobart, Hofstra, Hood, Illinois Institute

SCHOOLTALK

Our World, a 60-minute television documentary created, developed and produced by seventh-graders at Doherty Middle School, will premiere in September on local cable-access Channel 12.

The students created Our World to investigate how seventh-graders look at the serious issues they must face in the world every day. Our World was designed to take an in-depth look at students' feelings about many issues, including drugs, violence, and the possibility of another World War. Twelve seventh-graders participated in the project, under the direction of Harry J. Durso, a television writer, who served as their teacher, adviser and executive producer.

The students interviewed other seventh-graders on camera for several months and often gave up lunch periods and worked after school at Doherty and at Andover High to complete the project. All of the television production tasks, from pre-production to the final editing process, were performed by seventh-grade students.

Mr. Durso wanted Our World to offer middle-school-aged students a multi-dimensional television learning experience, usually available only to older high school students. Jason Libby and Greg Cerniglia, juniors at Andover High School and members of the TCI Video Club, volunteered to help with the final editing and graphics, which should be completed during the summer.

Our World has received a grant from the Andover Fund for Education because of its educational value.

Production support was offered by Annetta Freedman at DMS and Karen Hayden and Kim Tierney from TCI Cablevision of Andover.

A reception is planned for the participating students and their parents at the TCI studio at Andover High School when Our World premieres.

Pallabi Sanyal of Andover, a freshman at the Academy of Notre Dame in Tyngsboro, recently performed in the school's One Woman Show. Her solo interpretation of the classic novel Charlotte's Web "emphasized her talents with drama, elocution and originality." According to a school spokeswoman, the skit was initially created for an English class assignment and was so well done that it won her the opportunity to perform it before the student body as part of the show.

Understanding Chiropractic

by Mark F. DeLorenzo, D.C.

EFFECTIVE TREATMENT FOR BACK PAIN

What led the federal government to suggest new guidelines for the effective treatment of acute lower back pain? At some point, 80% of us will experience back pain so severe that we will seek medical help. Back pain is also the leading cause of disability among people under the age of 45. Because Americans spend billions of dollars on treatment of this problem each year, the government wanted to see which treatments are the most effective. After reviewing 3,900 studies on treatments, a panel of medical experts concluded that many popular treatment methods lack scientific evidence that they work. On the other hand, the panel found that manipulation, as performed by chiropractors, can help relieve acute lower back pain when applied within the first 4 weeks that symptoms appear.

Just as you need regular dental exams, you also need regular spinal exams. Even if you don't have any symptoms, chiropractic care is one of the best ways to help prevent spinal problems. At DeLORENZO CHIROPRACTIC GROUP, we can help you and your family maintain healthier lives. Manipulation is not only effective, but safe when done by a doctor of chiropractic. We're located at 15 Central Street. Please call 475-5042 to schedule and appointment.

P.S. Beyond effectively treating the symptoms of back pain, chiropractic seeks to identify and eliminate its causes.

Your Dental HEALTH

by Richard D. Hopgood, D.M.D.

DENTAL IMPLANTS

Many of the nearly 40 million Americans who have lost some or all of their teeth are considering more than bridges and dentures as replacements. According to estimates by the Academy of General Dentistry, more than 300,000 dental implants are done annually in this country. Increasingly seen as more permanent solutions to dentures, implants are also regarded as more natural in terms of looks and feel. It is no wonder, because implants mimic the structure of natural teeth. Implanted beneath the gum in the jaw, the implant itself looks and acts like the root of a natural tooth. After the gum heals and the bone actually attaches itself to the implant, a porcelain tooth is screwed onto the implant. The result is a fixed prosthesis that is hard to distinguish from the tooth it replaces.

Dental health is a lifelong process, and teeth are meant to last a lifetime. When teeth are lost, however, due to trauma, disease, or neglect, there are ways to minimize the damage. Implants, dentures, bridges, etc. are some of the tools dentists can use today to ensure a healthy, happy smile. Our goal here at 296 Lowell St., Rt 133, with easy access off Rt 93, is to be known as professionals who are gentle, caring, & friendly, and who use the most modern techniques & equipment. Hrs.: Mon & Thur 10-8, Tues & Fri 8-6, & by appointment (475-2431).

P.S. Unlike a bridge, an implant that replaces a single lost tooth does not make any demands upon the two healthy teeth on either side.

Youth Services staff

• Bill Fahey, Youth Services coordinator and facilitator of many youth programs; "one good fisherman, and the friendliest guy in town (just meet him)."

• Glenn Wilson, assistant program coordinator, graduate of AHS '94, "Elvis impersonator and that guy that works at McDonald's and late nights at CVS." Currently a student at Penn State University studying administration of justice.

• Erien Morgan, a graduate of Allegheny College with master's in elementary and middle school education. A seventh-grade teacher in the Methuen public school system, she "makes wicked good brownies."

• Aaryn Schmuhl, graduate of AHS '95, will attend Vanderbilt University in the fall, studying secondary education and history. An Eagle Scout, he has extensive experience working with children.

All trips are first-come, first-served. Sign up ASAP to reserve your spot.

Scholarships are available. Contact Bill Fahey at 470-3800, Ext. 226; after 5 p.m., call 470-3810. "Don't be afraid to leave a message on our machine. And have a wicked good summer!"

Rock climbing

You wanted it and now you're gonna get it. Rock climbing is by far the greatest thrill you can legally get. You'll learn all the basic knots, techniques, and know-how to climb steep vertical rock faces. Limit 8-12 per trip (dependent on number of instructors).

Half-day trips, 9 a.m. to 1 p.m. (includes travel time)

Dates: Aug. 1, 15

Location: Den Rock

Cost: $10 per day (includes transportation, staff and equipment)

Ages: 12-19

All-day trips, Saturdays, 9 a.m. to 5 p.m. (includes travel time)

Dates: July 22, 29, Aug. 5, 12

Locations: Various areas planned in this order: Pawtuckaway, Hammond Pond, Red Rocks

Cost: $15 per day (includes transportation, staff, and equipment)

Ages: 12-19

Transportation will be provided. Meet behind Doherty Middle School at 9 a.m. sharp.

What to bring? Water (lots of it), lunch, bug spray, and any rock-climbing gear you may have (harnesses, rock shoes, chalk bag, etc.).

What to wear? Comfortable clothing that you don't mind getting torn, dirty, burnt, chalky, bloody, etc. If you don't have rock-climbing shoes, then wear tight shoes with grippy soles.

How to sign up: Fill out forms at the DCS office at least three days before each trip. Trips are weather-dependent, and are sponsored by Andover Youth Services. Any questions? Call us at 470-3800, Ext. 226.

▶ For more information about WHAT'S UP, call Bill Fahey, Andover Youth Services coordinator, at 470-3800, Ext. 226; or Jack Grady, Townsman assistant editor, at 475-1943.

Sign at Andover High's Lovely Field to be replaced

After 27 years, the dedication sign at Andover High's Lovely Field had to be replaced. The field was dedicated to Eugene Lovely, a former coach and principal at Punchard High School.

John Lavoie, who works in the carpentry shop at Greater Lawrence Technical School, and fellow teachers Robert Marache and Dan Habib helped plan the project. Student Victor Tiburcio spent many hours on the sign as his class project.

According to AHS athletic director James R. Hurley, school officials hope to install the new sign this summer.

WEDDINGS, ENGAGEMENTS & ANNIVERSARIES

Kathryn and John J. Marocco

Christine Joyce Hashem

Cynthia and Mark P. Higgins

Tracy V. Sabella and Lorraine M. Coughlin

Marocco-Savignano

Kathryn F. Savignano and John J. Marocco were married April 1 in Newman Congregational Church in Rumford, R.I. The Protestant ceremony was performed by the Rev. John Callahan and Msgr. George Chicoine.

Meredith Savignano of Seekonk was her sister's maid of honor. Elizabeth Lyons of Salem, N.H., and Mary Kate Marocco of Methuen, both sisters of the groom, Donna Marocco of Methuen and Katherine Marocco of Manchester, N.H., the bride's sisters-in-law, and Deborah Young of Uxbridge were bridesmaids.

James Marocco of Manchester, N.H., was his brother's best man. Lawrence Marocco Jr. of Methuen, the groom's brother, James Denoncourt of Derry, N.H., John Barry of Andover, Scott Latanzio of Watertown, Patrick Higgins of Charlestown and Frederick Wahlers of Boston were ushers.

Following a reception at Marocco's in Johnston, R.I., the couple left for the Bahamas and Walt Disney World.

The bride is the daughter of Barbara and Aldor Lemire of Seekonk and David and Laura Savignano of East Falmouth. She graduated from Dean Junior College and Worcester State.

Her husband is the son of Christine and Lawrence Marocco of Andover. He graduated from Dean Junior College and Franklin Pierce College. He is a mortgage processor with Stoneham Cooperative Bank.

The couple live in Bradford.

Hashem-Andersen

Joyce F. Hashem of Andover and James F. Hashem of Westford announce the engagement of their daughter, Christine Joyce Hashem, to Christian Andersen of Stoneham.

Ms. Hashem graduated from Andover High School, Tufts University and the University of Massachusetts medical school. She is finishing a dermatology residency at the Bowman Gray School of Medicine in North Carolina.

Mr. Andersen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert T. Andersen of East Falmouth. He graduated from Ripon College and received a medical degree from the University of Mass. He is an orthopedic surgeon with a practice in the Stoneham-Melrose area.

The couple plan an October wedding.

Higgins-Bro

Dr. and Mrs. Manville I. Bro of Wilmington, Del., announce the marriage of their daughter, Cynthia Christensen Bro, to Mark Paul Higgins, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Higgins of Andover, on May 27, at the Ritz-Carlton Hotel in Boston.

The bride, a graduate of Drew University in Madison, N.J., pursued an M.B.A. degree at the University of Delaware, and studied design and photography at the Phoenix School/Pratt Institute and International Center of Photography in New York City.

She is owner/creative director of Responsive Concepts Advertising and Design in Andover. She serves as vice president of the new Rotary Club of Andover.

The groom is a graduate of Greater Lawrence Technical School and attended Wentworth Technical Institute and Merrimack College. He is a manufacturing supervisor at Amitron in North Andover.

After a ten-day honeymoon in Bermuda, the couple will live in Andover.

Coughlin-Sabella

Mr. and Mrs. John F. Coughlin of Andover announce the engagement of their daughter, Lorraine Mary Coughlin, to Tracy Vince Sabella of North Reading, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vincent Sabella of Lynnfield.

Ms. Coughlin received a bachelor of arts degree from Merrimack College.

Mr. Sabella also graduated from Merrimack College.

The couple plan an August wedding.

Celebrating their 65th wedding anniversary together at Academy Manor Nursing Home are Irene and Fred Spedding, along with their son and daughter-in-law, Tom and Melanie Spedding.

Speddings celebrate their 65th anniversary

Fred and Irene Spedding recently celebrated their 65th wedding anniversary at Academy Manor of Andover.

Their son and daughter-in-law, Tom and Melanie Spedding of Hampton Beach, N.H., and other family and friends shared in the festivities. Mr. and Mrs. Spedding, originally from North Andover, have lived in Andover for the past two years.

Mrs. Spedding was heard asking her husband, "Dad, how did you ever put up with me for 65 years?"

Mr. Spedding pondered for a moment and then responded, "That's the biggest question of my life."

ENTERTAINMENT NOTES

Festive art show

The Phillips Academy Summer Session will sponsor a festive art show opening Monday, July 24, at 6:30 p.m. in the Steinbach Theatre lobby, on the first floor of George Washington Hall on the academy campus.

The exhibiting artists are Phyllis Beinart, Robin Hansen-Cole, Cindy Efinger, Leah Johnson, Frances McCormick and Susan Zeeman Rogers, members of summer session art faculty and residents of Andover.

All are invited to view the paintings, photography and ceramics and an art performance piece entitled Marking Time. Marking Time is the creation of Ms. Rogers and marks the culmination of a year-long study and investigation of the merging of art and theater.

Music for the opening will be provided by jazz artist Lucinda Ellert, the summer session jazz band director. Ms. Ellert has appeared as jazz pianist and director of jazz bands throughout the United States. She is a member of the Creative Arts faculty in Reading and director of the Happy Feet Dance Orchestra.

For more information on the art opening, call the Phillips Academy Music Department at 749-4263.

Playground fundraiser

A giant yard sale, bake sale and raffle will be held Saturday and Sunday, July 22 and 23, at Memorial Circle to raise funds to build a playground there. Hamburgers and hot dogs will also be available.

Raffle prizes will include one complimentary night lodging at Tage Inn; a $20 gift certificate from Grille 93; Andover Limousine service; Domino's Pizza gift certificates; $25 gift certificate from M.V.P. Sons of Papaya

The band Sons of Papaya, from Syracuse, N.Y. is made up of Andover High School graduate David Lewin on sax, Larson Sutton on guitar/vocals, Chris Provenzano on drums/vocals, and Gabe Nunnen on bass. The band's only local performance will be at the Claddagh Pub in Lawrence next Wednesday, July 26, at 10 p.m. It's a 21-plus show.

The band recently returned from a tour of Atlanta, Ga., and Greenville, Greensboro and Durham, N.C. "The band formed in late 1991 and draws its sound from a very deep musical well. They cite everyone from Weather Report to Genesis, the Grateful Dead, Phish and Maceo Parker as influences," said an article in the August 1994 issue of Relix magazine.

"Its use of saxophone is simply splendid and sets them apart from other jam-oriented bands," said Relix magazine in its April issue.

The Sons currently have two CDs, Rack and Not Afraid to Sleep. Relix magazine listed the band as one of the new acts of 1994. Their song "Cherry Pickin' Frog" was included in a nationally distributed compilation CD, The Wiggly Compilation, and brought the band new fans. They are members of the Home Grown Music Network.

Storytelling fest

A Day for Sam, a storytelling and music festival, will take place this Saturday, July 22, at Big Apple Farm in Wrentham.

Consider These Thoughts

by Garry A. Burke

NEVER TOO LATE

A cynic might point out that it is often a young person who admonishes someone in his or her later years that it is "never too late" to get something or other done. The fact is, however, that recent evidence has served to bolster this spur to action. For instance, medical studies have proven that people in their eighties and nineties can derive health benefits from weightlifting - even when they begin this muscle-strengthening exercise at their late ages. Similarly, older people can expect to see both physical and mental improvement in their lives by making other healthy adjustments in their lifestyles. For inspiration in this regard, linger on the words of Montaigne who wrote: "There is nothing more remarkable in the life of Socrates than that he found time in his old age to dance and play on instruments, and thought it was time well spent."

These days, more and more people are pre-planning funerals and making arrangements in advance. Pre-arrangements are a great comfort to the family as it spares them additional concern and anxiety when the inevitable happens. It also gives you positive assurance that the funeral will represent your personal beliefs or lifestyle. For more information, contact BURKE FUNERAL HOME at 475-5200. Located at 390 North Main Street, we are a non-sectarian home, and we are happy to design services to suit your personal beliefs.

The Fifth Annual Henry Wyatt Golf Classic was held Friday, July 14, at Rolling Green Golf Course. The classic was originated by town employees to raise money for Henry Wyatt, a disabled town employee. The golf classic continued after Mr. Wyatt's death two years ago, with proceeds going to the Punchard Free School to benefit physically-challenged students in Andover.

Tim Thomas is stepping down as AHS head

The reassignment is the fourth departure of a top school department administrator in as many months, including Sam Campbell, West Middle School principal; Debra Dunn, Bancroft School principal; and Denise Littlefield, acting assistant superintendent. But Mr. Thomas insisted that his departure was not related to any of the others.

"I think it's important that it's understood clearly that Dick Neal has been very supportive of Andover High School and my principalship, and that this was a personal decision and a choice that I made," Mr. Thomas said.

"It's been a positive relationship. He's supported the High School and me as an assistant superintendent and as superintendent. He's just offered me a three-year contract – there were no strings, no anything," Mr. Thomas said. "The contract had absolutely nothing to do with my decision."

Mr. Thomas said he doesn't know the source of the speculation connecting him and his departure to the other two principals who left, all of whom were appointees of former superintendent Mark McQuillan.

'He's a tough act to follow no matter who comes in, and I think his leaving is really a blow to the High School.'

Jim Krasnoo

"I never considered myself any part of a threesome, and I don't think there's any relationship between any of the three of us leaving," Mr. Thomas said.

And rumors that his house is for sale or that he has a serious personal problem are also not true, Mr. Thomas said.

Tim Thomas

"I don't have a serious personal situation," Mr. Thomas said.

He and his wife, Melinda, and their children have looked at properties in other towns closer to the water, including Marblehead, and have discussed various options, but are not considering a move now, he said.

His son, Michael, is going into ninth grade at Andover High this fall and his daughter, Kalley, will be a sophomore at AHS this year.

Mr. Thomas said the principal position required some commitments at night and was a tremendous amount of work and had "gotten to the point it really was impinging on my other life."

"The commitment in time is considerable," he said.

Mr. Thomas started teaching science at the High School in 1976. He became assistant principal in 1987 and principal in 1991. He will now return to the classroom, teaching ninth-grade science, anatomy and physiology and algebra. There was an opening for a science teacher that had been advertised, so no one is being squeezed out, he said.

Having previously been a teacher in the system, Mr. Thomas will not lose his step increases, but will lose seniority.

"I will have the seniority of a one-year teacher," Mr. Thomas said.

"There will be a reduction in salary," he said, but he said he wasn't sure of the exact numbers.

Mr. Thomas' current salary as principal is $78,250 annually. Ms. Parker's salary as assistant principal is $62,814.

It was unclear this week if an acting assistant principal would be hired to fill in for Ms. Parker. She and Steve Richardson, also an assistant principal, currently share those duties. Ms. Parker was on vacation this week and Mr. Richardson will be on vacation next week. Mr. Thomas said all three would get together after the vacations to discuss a game plan.

"My assumption is that there would be an interim assistant principal," Mr. Thomas said.

Mr. Thomas said there will be a transition period and that he will be helping where needed.

" I will be helping Ellen and Steve in any way they feel will be beneficial," Mr. Thomas said.

School Committee members learned about Mr. Thomas' resignation through a confidential memo they were given by Mr. Neal last Tuesday night, July 11, during a break in the interviews of finalists for the assistant superintendent position.

"My sense is that I respect him and I think he's done a marvelous job, and if this is a choice he's made, I respect that – more power to him," said Tina Girdwood, School Committee member. "This is a personal situation and we shouldn't read any more into that."

"Like everyone else, I was a little surprised by it," said Susan Dalton, School Committee chairwoman. But it was a personal decision on his part and she could only respect that decision, Ms. Dalton said.

David Birnbach, committee member, said the schools need to accommodate Mr. Thomas and he said that he is glad to see him stay in the system and rejoin the staff at AHS.

"We need to support his personal decision," Mr. Birnbach said.

The major challenges the High School faces in the next 12 months are increasing enrollments, financial constraints and implementation of a multi-million dollar computer plan, according to Mr. Birnbach.

"That's where I think we need to spend our energies," he said.

"Ellen Parker has agreed to be interim, which I think is great," Ms. Girdwood said. "She seems to have a lot of respect in the community."

Rave review

Jim Krasnoo, former president of the Parents Advisory Council at the High School, said Mr. Thomas will be sorely missed.

"Tim has been a great principal and has really carried that school to new heights in four years," Mr. Krasnoo said this week.

He said Mr. Thomas was completely dedicated and came to all kinds of events – days, nights and weekends. He took ideas from parents and acted on them.

"Most importantly, he made the place a friendly place," Mr. Krasnoo said.

More students took part in community service in the class that just graduated than any other class ever, Mr. Krasnoo said. And he said that was in a large part due to their having Mr. Thomas as a role model.

If Mr. Thomas had a fault, it was that he wasn't able to delegate as many of the projects as he should have been able to, Mr. Krasnoo said. That was not because Ms. Parker or Mr. Richardson should have done them – because they were also busy – but because of the number of things there were to do.

"He's a tough act to follow no matter who comes in, and I think his leaving is really a blow to the High School," Mr. Krasnoo said.

Not everyone can establish the rapport he had developed with students and parents.

"He blended kids with parents and faculty. He made them all friendly and willing to work cohesively. And that I think that is just terrific and, I think, difficult to do," Mr. Krasnoo said. "In addition, Tim is a very, very good person."

Early figures: decreased class sizes

By Neil Fater

The School Committee expressed satisfaction with its anticipated enrollment numbers for the 1995-1996 school year at its July 11 meeting, apparently believing the numbers verify the effectiveness of the redistricting plan it approved this winter.

Parents were upset in January when Dick Muller, Susan Dalton and Lloyd Willey approved the plan 3-2 despite requests to delay a vote until parents could review the plan.

Ms. Dalton, committee chairwoman, did caution that the July 5 figures are "soft figures at best." School officials usually are hesitant to place too much support on July numbers because many families move in and out of school-house districts during the summer.

If the figures remain the same, when school opens in September there will be 1,333 students at Andover High School; 1,325 students in the two middle schools; and 2,718 students at the four elementary and one primary school.

The committee unanimously voted to add an additional first-grade teacher at Sanborn School, decreasing the average, first-grade class size there from 26 students to 19.5 students.

This addition means there will not be an average class size for any grade larger than 24.6 students at any of the elementary schools.

The largest average class size for a middle-school grade is 26.6, for Doherty Middle School's seventh grade.

Dick Muller suggested current information should be sent to the Parent Teacher Organizations to show parents the effects of the committee's redistricting plan.

Not ready to appoint assistant superintendent tendent of schools, asked for some direction from the board on what to do next, but received none, according to Ms. Girdwood, who said this week she doesn't know what is needed at this point to reach an agreement.

"I thought the level of communication was not very clear," Ms. Girdwood said.

But Susan Dalton, School Committee chairwoman, said Monday one issue that needs to be resolved before going any further is whether to do away with the position. That suggestion was made at a number of meetings by committee member David Birnbach since the position was first advertised. The idea has not really been explored and has to be resolved before any consensus will be reached on filling the position, Ms. Dalton said.

Mr. Birnbach's suggestion was that any position should really be looked at for possible budget cutting before it is automatically filled, including the assistant-superintendent's slot. But staff and curriculum development are the responsibilities of the assistant, and someone would have to assume those duties, "so it isn't a dollar-for-dollar savings," Ms. Dalton said. She did not say whether she would support the idea.

"David has mentioned the idea of not filling that position, kind of obliquely, if you will," said Lloyd Willey, committee member. But Mr. Willey doesn't support the suggestion.

'Certainly the committee needs to sit down with Mr. Neal and talk.' If she were Mr. Neal, she'd be saying, "What are you looking for?" Ms. Dalton said. "What were the issues of concern?"

"I'm not in favor of that at all. I absolutely believe we need an assistant superintendent," Mr. Willey said.

A second issue is, if the position is going to be filled, will it be by one of the current finalists. If not, then an interim assistant superintendent will have to be considered because there isn't time to go back through the entire search process before the start of school, and Mr. Neal will need help in the meantime, Ms. Dalton said.

"As a result of those two things, there has been no appointment made," Ms. Dalton said.

Ms. Girdwood said the finalists have gone through the process and that if Mr. Neal is ready to choose one candidate for the job, as he indicated he is, she is ready to support him.

'I'm not in favor of that at all. I absolutely believe we need an assistant superintendent.'
Lloyd Willey

"If this is a clear choice of the superintendent we just put in place, why are we not supporting this?" Ms. Girdwood said. "I'm amazed."

The assistant superintendent is appointed by the School Committee, but usually with the consent of the superintendent, since the superintendent is the one who works with the assistant. Mr. Neal is on vacation this week and the next regular School Committee meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, Aug. 1. Ms. Dalton did not know Monday if anything would be done on the appointment before that time.

Process

The worst-case scenario is that the School Committee will not be able to come to a consensus and the search will have to be started all over again, Ms. Dalton said.

"Certainly the committee needs to sit down with Mr. Neal and talk," Ms. Dalton said.

If she were Mr. Neal, she'd be saying, "What are you looking for?" Ms. Dalton said. "What were the issues of concern?"

The superintendent search committee narrowed a field of candidates to four, which it passed on to Mr. Neal and an "administrators' council," according to Ms. Dalton. The administrators' council then met with the four candidates and recommended to Mr. Neal two candidates the council felt were best qualified for the job: Mary Ellen Correa, of Brownsville, Texas; and Marinel McGrath, of Newburyport. The council then left it up to Mr. Neal to decide which one he favored.

Mr. Neal asked individual School Committee members to call him after they had interviewed the candidates in the hope of gaining a consensus for one candidate before last Wednesday's meeting. He was ready to choose one, but his concern was that he didn't want to publicly name a person if the committee was not going to approve it. He wanted to spare the candidate that embarrassment, according to more than one committee member. But he didn't get a consensus.

"Several School Committee members said they were not prepared to vote, that they were not particularly enthusiastic about a candidate," Ms. Girdwood said.

Ms. Girdwood was the only one ready to vote last week. Mr. Muller said he was not ready to vote. Susan Dalton was absent, but had talked with Mr. Neal.

"I told him that I thought each candidate has positive things and that I had some reservations as well," Ms. Dalton said.

David Birnbach said it was "a timing thing." It was his understanding that it was simply a matter of not having enough time between the interviews and being asked for a decision, and not one of not being able to reach a consensus on a candidate. He was not ready to vote last week, Mr. Birnbach said. He said the next move is for Mr. Neal to make his recommendation.

"I would hope that we as members of the School Committee can reach consensus on a candidate that ultimately is being recommended by Dick Neal," Mr. Birnbach said. "Dick Neal should feel comfortable with his choice and the School Committee needs to rally behind that candidate."

'Dick Neal should feel comfortable with his choice and the School Committee needs to rally behind that candidate.'
David Birnbach

Mr. Willey said he was acting chairman in Ms. Dalton's absence and, with Mr. Muller and Mr. Birnbach not ready to vote, he realized that there would not be a consensus and opted not to ask Mr. Neal to make his recommendation last week.

Mr. Willey said he and Mr. Neal discussed the candidates on the phone after the interviews and agreed that there were two who were "viable," Ms. Correa and Ms. McGrath. Mr. Neal had no strong sense for either excluding one or favoring the other, he said.

"I'm going to support a choice that Dick Neal comes up with," Mr. Willey said.

It was suggested that maybe the entire search process would have to be started over again, according to Ms. Girdwood, but she thinks that is premature. She would like to take action on the existing finalists before expanding the search or starting it over, she said.

Ms. Girdwood said she is prepared to support whichever candidate Mr. Neal chooses. She said committee members are not educators and that she would look to the administrators in the system and the superintendent to make the decision.

"I was urging other committee members to support that," she said.

'If this is a clear choice of the superintendent we just put in place, why are we not supporting this? I'm amazed.'
Tina Girdwood

Needing leadership

Ms. Girdwood and committee member Mr. Birnbach said they are anxious to get another administrator in place to help teachers and administrators deal with several issues, including curriculum changes, staff development, school construction projects and the replacement of two principals, one for the High School and the other for Bancroft Elementary School.

"They need direction. They need a leader," Ms. Girdwood said.

"It's really important that we solidify and put in place a solid set of administrators that can work and collaborate together and move the system," Mr. Birnbach said.

Tim Thomas, High School principal since 1991, announced last week that he will not accept a new contract and will instead return to teaching science at the school.

Debra Dunn resigned as principal of Bancroft Elementary School earlier this month to take a job elsewhere. That job has been advertised and Mr. Neal expects to appoint a new principal there by mid-August, according to Ms. Dalton.

Sam Campbell was not offered a new contract as principal at West Middle School this year, but his position has been filled, and principal contract negotiations have been completed for all other schools, Ms. Dalton said.

Ms. Dalton said administrative workshops are ongoing and the interim principal for the High School is in place. And curriculum work and professional development are done year to year.

"I think we're in pretty good shape as far as start-up of school," Ms. Dalton said.

But even if the committee decides not to fill the assistant superintendent position permanently, it will have to be filled temporarily while its responsibilities are assigned to other positions, she said.

"If it is not filled by one of the finalists, we would definitely have to have an interim," Ms. Dalton said.

EDITORIAL

A fast appointment

Dick Neal, superintendent of schools, currently has a plate heaped and overflowing with chores and duties. And he's facing the chores without an assistant. Here are some of the duties he's looking at right now:

- Running Andover High School without Tim Thomas at its head;
- Dealing with school opening and so much construction to worry about at AHS:
- Dealing with new curriculum at Andover High School;
- Dealing with construction at other schools;
- Working with a new principal at West Middle School;
- Looking for a new principal for Bancroft School;
- Helping an acting principal at Andover High;
- Perhaps looking for a new assistant principal to replace now-acting principal Ellen Parker at the High School.
- Implementing a multi-million dollar computer plan.

And those are just some of Superintendent Neal's pressing duties he's currently facing without an assistant superintendent to help him.

In fact, there is some talk of eliminating the assistant-superintendent position altogether, which would be a grave mistake at this time.

The School Committee elected Mr. Neal as the man who will run the schools. And even though it is the School Committee's final say on who is hired as his assistant superintendent, since they put their trust in him, and because the assistant superintendent is a person with whom he must be able to work well, the committee should look to Mr. Neal's recommendation for the position. And that should happen as fast as possible. Last week would have been best.

School Committeewoman Tina Girdwood tried to speed up the process, but she didn't receive the necessary support from the other committee members, who said they weren't ready to act on the appointment.

We urge the School Committee to make the appointment of assistant superintendent as soon as possible.

LETTER

Andover bikers write of 4,200-mile trip

[Editor's note: Andover residents Spencer Pickard and Will Lowry are on a 70-day, 4,200-mile bike trip from Portland, Maine, to Washington state. The two Andover High School graduates (1991), who recently received their degrees from the University of Vermont, were the subject of Editor Perry Colmore's column June 22, page 30. They wrote the following letter last week to the Townsman:]

Editor, Townsman:

We are 1,350 miles into our trip, which places us in Wabash, Ind. Last night we stayed here and watched their fireworks display, a bit less exciting than Andover's.

However, we learned a bit about Wabash, for instance, Crystal Gayle was born here and Wabash was the first city to be lit electrically.

That's what it's all about, meeting people and learning new things in every town and city we stop in.

Other events which have occurred along the way include Will waking up about 20 angry campers in New York shouting, "Oh, my gosh, a bear," and it turns out it was just a big stump.

Also, we were questioned by the New York state police after the Conservatory Club of Franklinville, N.Y., was broken into. Our tent was set up only 50 feet from the window they used to get in.

The hardest parts of the trip have been the White Mountains. We went over the Kangamangus Pass, which seemed like an eternity to peddle over.

In addition, we have run into bike trouble, blowing five or six tires, and Will bent his fetszer valve, which seems to be unique to Will's bike because no bike store had seen or heard of it. That's where Jon Bicknel of Andover stepped in. Over the phone he told us how to remove the wheel cones and use our chain tool to fix the broken fetszer.

Other than those few problems the trip has been great. We have had two days of rain, the rest being hot and sunny, and no health problems.

We have been averaging 70 miles a day with our biggest day being 112 miles through Ohio. The western part of Ohio is flat and straight, making for easy riding. We will keep you updated and send pictures next time. Until then we will be following a little philosophy we tapped into along the way, "Have a good time all the time."

Spencer Pickard, Will Lowry

COLUMN

Sarah is safe, but what about her family?

By Perry Colmore

"Sarah is safe."

That's what Sarah's mother told me last week at Sarah's funeral.

Most of you don't know Sarah, or her family. She lived in Essex. A 21-year-old senior at Dartmouth College, it seemed Sarah had a good head start at life. Both of her parents love her very much, she was an excellent student, and Dartmouth College said she was, perhaps, the best woman athlete the college ever had. She was an All-Ivy League selection in field hockey, ice hockey and lacrosse. She shared this year's Outstanding Female Athlete award. She was an All-American in lacrosse and she was a leader in the Dartmouth's lacrosse and ice hockey teams for league championships this year.

Sarah killed herself last week. I am sure no one knows why. No one ever does with suicide. So we are left wondering why.

My son was one of Sarah's many friends. He called me last week, exactly a minute after I had sent to the printer the last page of the Townsman on Wednesday.

"Mom, I have bad news," he began.

My heart sank. I started doing inventory about what it could be.

"Is the paper finished?" said my son, who doesn't remember his mother without a newspaper deadline.

"Yes, just," I said.

"Sarah Devens killed herself Monday."

At her service, we sang.

"Love divine, all loves excelling, joy of heaven, to earth come down, fix in us thy humble dwelling, all thy faithful mercies crown. Jesus, thou art all compassion,
pure, unbounded love thou art;
visit us
with thy salvation, enter every trembling heart."

I arrived at the memorial service last Thursday at 10:10 for an 11 a.m. service. Thinking I was too early, I decided to drive past the Episcopal Church, St. John's in Beverly Farms. But I stopped and parked because I could see it already was crowded. In fact, there already was a line of mourners from the church to the street. By the time my part of the line reached the inside of the church, there was standing-room only. Actually, my son, a friend and I managed to get three seats in the choir loft up front.

"The Lord is my shepherd;
I shall not want.
He maketh me to lie down in green pastures;
He leadeth me beside the still waters.
He restoreth my soul."

There were hundreds of souls and hearts that needed and still do need restoring over Sarah's death. Hers was a good funeral. Everyone who spoke knew her well, including the former headmaster of St. Paul's School, an ordained minister who was headmaster at that school when Sarah was there, before Dartmouth.

Like Sarah's lacrosse coach from Dartmouth and the other speakers, the reverend delivering the eulogy told Sarah-stories. The speakers made us laugh and they made us cry. The hymns and Bible readings slogged loose some emotion from the congregation, too, so the funeral accomplished its goal: It moved us toward closure, we gave thanksgiving for the life of Sarah, and we were sharing grief and remembering to tell each other, especially our children, that we love them.

"Father Mother God, in the quiet of this morning hour
I come to you for peace, for wisdom," we prayed.
"Power to view the world today through love-filled eyes.
Be patient, understanding, gentle,
wise
To see beyond what seems to be
And know thy children as thou knowest them
And so naught but the good to anyone behold.
Make deaf my ears to slander that is old.
Silence my tongue to aught that is unkind.

Good work on changing the AHS logo

Editor, Townsman:

I commend our citizens and school board for finally doing the right thing, in my opinion, regarding the AHS logo. You know, there are some pretty majestic "inanimate objects" out there to choose from. How about the Golden Suns? Or even trendier, the Golden Sunrise? You know, like the Utah Jazz or the Miami Heat. I bet we could come up with some really neat cheers.

This letter was prompted by my attendance with my family yesterday at a Native American Pow-Wow co-sponsored by the Massachusetts Center for Native American Awareness and the Massachusetts Pow-Wow Society. We spent a truly memorable day with people from all over the U.S. and the Western Hemisphere, representing many tribes. A peaceful feeling of spiritual uplift was everywhere, and the message was brotherly love, reverence for Indian heritage, and above all, a reminder to cherish our kids. We were received with warm courtesy, and our friendly little girl was given smiles, pats, and even a few special gifts as her many questions were answered with kindly respect. Prices for everything, from admission to food to items for sale, were incredibly reasonable.

As we witnessed the dignified solemnity of the spiritual dances, accompanied by stirring Native chanting and drumming, the recent controversy over the AHS logo came to mind and really hit home. No one who sees the reverence with which Native Americans dance and use their sacred items, including feathers, rattles, and animal artifacts, could fail to be moved toward a better understanding of how they might feel when such objects and the Native American image itself are used in a secular manner by even well-intentioned non-natives. I don't consider myself particularly over-sensitive, but as a Christian and regular churchgoer, I can imagine how I'd feel if some non-Christian organization decided to use the "Golden Saviors" as a logo, complete with the cross or a chalice with host to inspire team spirit at sporting events.

I sincerely hope that some of your readers will take the opportunity to attend one of the many pow-wows held each year all around New England. It was a fascinating and eye-opening experience for all of us. As for the recent exchange of letters regarding someone's roots, I don't wish to denigrate anyone's, but let's face it: our Native American neighbors have roots that make all the rest of us the new kids in town by comparison.

Here comes the diner, being driven down Highland Road mid-day Tuesday.

Diner moved here for restoration

Doug and Leah Johnson welcomed a new addition to their house this week. They had a 1930s vintage Worcester lunch car transported to their property at 177 Highland Road from Grafton. They plan to slowly restore the diner, and perhaps sell it several years from now.

In Grafton it operated as the Midway Diner, said Mr. Johnson, a graphic designer for Ziff-Davis Interactive. Although his job is designing for the Internet and CD-RAMs, Mr. Johnson is an antique collector. Leah Johnson, also an artist, teaches photography at Phillips Academy in the summers and art in the Danvers public schools during the school year.

The couple plan to use the diner as an art studio while they restore it. In restoring the diner, the Johnsons are consulting with a person who runs the Diner Museum in Providence, R.I.

Workers prepare the foundation to place the diner on Doug and Leah Johnsons' property at 177 Highland Road Tuesday afternoon, after bringing it from Grafton. At left is Dave Sullivan of O.B. Hill Trucking and Rigging; that's Doug Johnson in the white sweatshirt; and Geddes Building Movers Inc. employee Ted Fontaine has his back to the camera.

Sarah is safe, but what about her family?

Let only thoughts that bless dwell in my mind..."

"Sarah is safe, Perry," her mother said twice to me, perhaps suggesting it as a mantra for anyone who cared to use it.

I found myself saying it several times the day of her funeral, and even today. I hope her family will be safe.

But I am worried about one message I don't think the funeral delivered. No one talked about suicide not being a good solution. Perhaps that isn't an easy message to fit into a "service of thanksgiving for the life of Sarah McKnight Devens," as the order of service was titled. It would have been awkward to talk about other solutions, to say suicide is forever, that there have to be other solutions. But Sarah was such a special young woman, as all there said, that if a young person were on the edge, emotionally in bad trouble, this service could be interpreted as a good alternative to living, so much attention did she receive after suicide.

Suicide is not a good alternative, for we no longer have Sarah in our lives. She's in our hearts forever, but we cannot sit with her, share with her, watch her unbelievably coordinated body take a ball down the field into the net. We can't hear her laugh, listen to her tease her teammates, see the wonderful sparkle that had been in her eyes since she was a tiny little girl.

We miss Sarah. We thank her parents and God for 21 years of her.

But we wish we had more. We wish to tell others: Suicide is not the way. If you are that troubled, tell a friend, your parents, your clergy, the Samaritan hotline. Tell us.

People will help. There is another way; we have to believe that. If someone is talking to you about suicide, don't agree to keep that secret. Tell someone who can help. Suicide is not the way.

Conservation restriction grant approved

Environmental Affairs Secretary Trudy Coxe recently approved a conservation restriction grant request of nearly 4.8 acres in Andover by Hunter's Ridge Condominium Trust to the Andover Conservation Commission.

The land abuts other conservation land and serves to protect Hussey's Brook, which flows into Hussey's Pond.

"I am encouraged by this action," said Secretary Coxe. "This land adds to the conservation area in town and protects the water quality and aesthetic value of the brook and pond. If we are going to preserve the natural and historical value of this region, then we must preserve open space. Conservation restrictions are important tools towards that goal.

> 'I am encouraged by this action. This land adds to the conservation area in town and protects the water quality and aesthetic value of the brook and pond.'
> Secretary Trudy Coxe

"Perhaps the top environmental mandate of the Weld-Cellucci administration is to acquire, maintain and protect our open space. For if we do, we succeed in the most basic step in protecting our environment and the quality of life for our citizenry."

A conservation restriction is an agreement by a landowner to prevent future adverse change which would alter or destroy its natural character while allowing certain retained rights of use, such as farming, forestry and recreation.

Under Massachusetts law, all conservation restrictions held by cities, towns and private non-profit land trusts must be approved by the Secretary of Environmental Affairs. The law was first enacted in 1966.

Her plea to the court in 1703 to clear her name: "I am as yet suffered to live, but this only as a malefactor convicted of ye most heinous crimes..." led to the official Act to Reverse decisions of the Court of Oyer et Terminer, set up solely to handle witchcraft cases, which is recounted in the book. A petition from some 26 Andover citizens helped turn the tide to stop the trials. Billerica residents who were accused and tried are also covered in the book.

The oldest extant grave in Old Burial Ground on Academy Road is that of 30-year-old Timothy Swan, reported to have been a victim of witchcraft in 1692. "Some 10 persons confessed to having tortured, afflicted, consumed and wasted" him.

The Perspectives on History Series is being used widely in the schools in grades 5-12 as background to the study of American history and literature. Teachers are increasingly directing their classes to collections of primary resources such as those in the original diaries, letters, court documents, and accounts by eye-witnesses which help students evaluate the past and to separate history from the legends of 19th century fiction writers like Hawthorne and Longfellow. Cry"Witch!": The Salem Trials of 1692 may be ordered for $4.95 by calling 1-800-729-1720.

POLICE LOG

ARRESTS

Thursday, July 13 – At 11:37 p.m., an Andover woman called to report her daughter was assaulting her and her husband. An officer took a female juvenile into custody and charged her with assault and battery on a family member. The mother had earlier reported that her daughter had run away, and an officer had returned her to the home after finding her on a phone in Ballardvale Center.

Saturday, July 15 – At 7:30 p.m., a 41-year-old South Main Street man was taken into protective custody on Main Street.

Sunday, July 16 – At 2:19 a.m., Jose L. Morales-Ortiz of Woburn, 24, was arrested on Interstate 93 southbound and charged with driving under the influence of alcohol and driving with a suspended license.

At 2:50 p.m., Jung Woong Kim, 50, of 7 Boutwell Road, was arrested at his home and charged with assault and battery.

Monday, July 17 – At 7:21 a.m., Jose Santiago, Jr., 23, of Lawrence, was arrested on Railroad Street and charged with driving with a suspended license.

INCIDENTS

Tuesday, July 11 – At 3:34 a.m., two juveniles on Harding Street were brought to the police station to call their parents to come get them.

At 12:41 p.m., a man reported his car stolen from a Central Street space. He came to the station later to say he had forgotten that he had parked his car in a different location.

At 8:50 p.m., an officer was sent to file a report regarding two women who were threatened on Brookside Drive. A 209A restraining order was issued.

At 9:52 p.m., Gail Zeman, school business manager, requested an officer at a School Committee meeting regarding the Warrior logo. The meeting had calmed down by the time the officer reported.

Wednesday, July 12 – At 7:22 a.m., a town custodian reported seeing a male sleeping near the bandstand in The Park. A young man lying on the ground said he was not sleeping and was sent on his way by an officer.

At 10:05 a.m., B&M Railroad was notified of exposed wires at the Essex Street railroad crossing gate.

At 8:37 p.m., a 209A restraining order was served to a man on Virginia Road. He left the house. At 3:23 p.m. on July 15 the man's wife reported her husband had been back in the house, but he left again.

Thursday, July 13 – At 5:22 p.m., a Crescent Drive resident reported a problem with a neighbor.

At 7:38 p.m., a River Road man reported he hurt his ankle an hour and a half ago while walking on the sidewalk in front of his house. A detective went to take photos.

At 11:45 p.m., a man brought a woman to the safety center after he found her walking in the middle of South Main Street. An officer brought the woman home.

Friday, July 14 – At 2:53 a.m., a Lowell Street man reported he was just assaulted at his house. An officer reported the man refused medical treatment and will be fine.

Saturday, July 15 – At 6:57 p.m., a Stevens Street woman reported her brother had kicked her and then later said they had just had a screaming match.

Sunday, July 16 – At 4:47 p.m., a caller reported kids lighting fires by the railroad beds near Haggetts Pond Road.

Monday, July 17 – At 10:32 a.m., a Lavender Hill Lane woman brought to the police station a wallet she found in the middle of her street.

At 6:26 p.m., a man who owns an unoccupied home on River Road reported he drove by the address and saw people

Andover Blue aims for North Pony League pennant

By Rick Harrison

Andover Blue remained in the thick of the Suburban Pony League North Division pennant race with a 6-2-3 record through 11 games.

In recent play, Blue edged the previously-undefeated defending league champion North Andover Knights, 4-3, battled the once-beaten Reading Rockets to a 6-6 deadlock at the Andover High junior varsity field, lost to North leader Lowell Police, 4-2, and defeated the North Reading Braves.

Blue also picked up a 1-0 forfeit victory over Medford.

Lowell, which beat North Andover (5-1) recently, was 10-1-1 for 21 points to lead the division entering this week's action. North Andover stood 8-2-0 for 16 points, Andover Gold 7-3-1 for 15 points, and Blue also had 15 points.

The first of two Blue-Gold intra-town battles was scheduled for last night at the Andover High junior varsity field.

Lowell 4
Andover Blue 2

Lowell snapped an eight-game Blue unbeaten streak (5-0-3), scoring two runs in each of the first two innings and then holding on for the victory at Shedd Park in Lowell.

John Hogan (3-2) pitched very well in defeat, tossing a complete-game four-hitter while striking out three and walking five. He whitewashed Lowell over the final four frames.

Ace Lowell lefthander Adam Michaud yielded eight hits to Blue, walking four and whiffing nine.

Trailing 4-0, Andover got on the board in the third after a walk and singles by Jeff Cutler and Scott Peterson (RBI).

In the fourth Aron Bellorado reached on an error, Hogan singled and Ryan Hannigan laced a run-scoring single.

But Michaud settled down to blank Blue over the final three innings and preserve the victory.

Michaud helped himself with a two-run single in the first, and Dan Shea followed three walks with a game-winning two-out, two-run single in the second to give Lowell its early 4-0 advantage.

Peterson finished the game with two singles for Blue.

Andover Blue 4
North Andover 3

Righthander John Hogan scattered four hits over the seven-inning distance, walking two and whiffing three, as Blue stopped the Knights at the North Andover Middle School field.

Andover inched ahead 1-0 in the second when Ben Gibson singled, took third on Aron Bellorado's single, and scored on an infield out by Ryan Hannigan.

North Andover retaliated with two runs in the third, but Bellorado tied it with his first home run of the season down the left field line in the fourth.

Blue won the game with two runs in the fifth. Jeff Cutler tripled to left, Scott Peterson followed with an RBI triple to right-center, and Bellorado lofted a sacrifice fly.

North Andover pushed across a run in the sixth but couldn't score the equalizer.

Cutler finished the game with a triple and single, while other base hits were contributed by Rob Oppenheim, Mark Rocca and Hannigan. Rocca was also a defensive standout at third base.

Andover Blue 6
Reading Rockets 6

Blue scored the tying run in the bottom of the sixth, without hitting the ball out of the infield, to salvage the tie with the Central Division leading Reading Rockets (6-1-2). The game was halted by darkness after six innings.

Trailing 6-5 in the sixth, Blue "rallied" when Mark Rocca reached on a dropped third strike, Ethan Murphy was safe on a fielder's choice erasing Rocca, Murphy stole second, and he advanced to third on Rob Oppenheim's infield out.

The run scored when Reading couldn't make a play on Jeff Cutler's two-out dribbler in front of the plate.

Scott Peterson's bid to keep the inning alive was killed when the Rockets' third baseman stabbed his line drive. Charles Daher pitched the first 3 ⅔ innings for Blue, yielding four hits and keeping himself in hot water with eight walks.

Oppenheim pitched the next 1 ⅓ innings, holding Reading without a hit, and Ben Gibson finished up with one solid inning of hitless relief. Gibson fanned one and walked one.

Blue grabbed a 2-0 lead in the first inning when Oppenheim was hit by a pitch, stole second, stole third and scored on a wild pitch. Gibson then belted his first home run of the season down the right field line.

Leadoff batter Oppenheim was again the catalyst with a single, Cutler reached on an error, Gibson clouted a two-run triple to right-center, and Aron Bellorado rescued Gibson with a single.

The Rockets tied it 5-5 with two runs in the fourth, moved ahead with a singleton in the fifth, and settled for the tie when Blue collected its unearned run in the sixth.

Rocca and Scott Peterson contributed one single each for Andover.

Two Little League All-Stars squads seek area championships

By Rick Harrison

Lefthander Rich Sheldon fired a masterful one-hitter, and started a rare triple play by stabbing a line drive back to the mound, as the Andover Junior 13-year-old Little League All-Stars moved to the championship round of the double-elimination District 14 Tournament with a 3-1 victory over Chelmsford Lupien in their winner's bracket game at Obdens Field in Tewksbury last Sunday.

The triumph, along with an earlier 17-5 romp over Chelmsford Fitts, boosted the Andover 13's to 3-0 entering the District finals last night where the locals were slated to face the survivor of the loser's bracket final between Tewksbury National and this same Lupien team.

If Andover won last night it is the District 14 champion, and moves on to Sectional play, while an Andover loss would force a winner-take-all title showdown tomorrow night.

Three years ago a 13-year-old All-Star team from Andover was District 14 and State Tournament champion, advancing the New England title game before being eliminated.

While Sheldon & Co. were reaching the finals, the Andover American Major 11-12 year-old team moved to the winner's bracket semifinals in its division with a 3-0 victory over Haverhill American.

The Americans were scheduled to play Lowell Highland (2-0) last Tuesday night, after Townsman presstime.

An Andover victory would move the team to the winner's bracket final this Saturday, at a time and site to be determined, while a defeat would drop the locals to a loser's bracket game tomorrow night.

The Andover National Major 11-12 team fell to the loser's bracket with a 9-1 setback to Tewksbury National, but remained alive with a subsequent 12-5 triumph over Methuen West Monday night at the Chandler Road Field.

The Nationals played another loser's bracket survival game last night against Tewksbury American (3-1) under the lights at Poulin Field in Tewksbury.

The Andover Senior 14-15 All-Stars were ousted from the tourney following their second straight loss, a 12-0 decision to Tewksbury American.

JUNIOR 13 DIVISION
Andover 3
Chelmsford Lupien 1

In the battle of the unbeaten, Andover scored two runs in the top of the first, added an insurance run in the sixth, and left the rest to Rich Sheldon.

Sheldon, 2-0 in tourney play (10-3 complete-game win over Lowell Callery), lost both the no-hitter and shutout in the bottom of the fourth on a clean RBI single to center field.

But the hard-throwing southpaw, who also plays for the New England Mariners travel team, struck out eight, walked five, hit one batter, allowed only two balls out of the infield, and threw 89 pitches.

In addition to the single, the only other Chelmsford ball that reached the outfield was a fly to right for the first out of the seventh.

Sheldon set the side down in 1-2-3 order three times, most impressively in the third when he fanned all three batters with nine consecutive strikes (after throwing two balls to the first hitter).

The triple play came immediately after Lupien's RBI single had cut the Andover lead to 2-1 in the fourth. With runners at first and second and no outs, Chelmsford manager John Myers signaled a hit-and-run.

Both baserunners were off with the pitch, which was lined back at Sheldon on the mound. He made the catch, whirled and threw to second baseman Andy Bellistri who tagged the bag and relayed to first baseman Paul Wysocki to complete the triple killing.

Andover sent eight batters to the plate and jumped on Lupien lefthander Jeff Trainor (1-1) for two runs in the first.

Trainor settled into a pitcher's duel with Sheldon after that, yielding only a pair of doubles and tossing shutout ball over the next four innings before being relieved.

Dave Powers launched the first-inning rally with a one-out single to center, and Sheldon followed by slicing an opposite-field single to left.

Wysocki then picked out a 3-2 pitch and lofted it over the center fielder's head for a long RBI single. A walk to Sean Lawton loaded the bases, and a two-out walk to lefty batter Chris King on four pitches forced home the second run.

Trainor escaped further trouble on a tapper back to the mound, as Andover left the bases loaded.

Mike Giles ripped a one-out double to center in the second inning, but was left stranded, and Lawton reached on a one-out error in the third but was erased on a double play hastened by reckless Andover baserunning.

A two-out infield error gave Chelmsford its first runner in the opening stanza. Sheldon issued consecutive two-out walks in the second before catcher Jack Wittbold gunned down Lupien's lead runner trying to steal third base. A hit batsman, walk and single by Greg Myers produced the lone Chelmsford run in the fourth.

Andover had two aboard in the fourth on walks to King and Brian DeAngelo, but Trainor retired Giles and Powers on back-to-back flyouts to left.

Andover stranded three runners for the second time in the fifth. Wysocki drew a one-out walk on four pitches, Wittbold laced a two-out double to left-center and King was hit by a pitch.Trainor got behind the next batter 3-0 before battling back for a clutch strikeout to end the threat.

Andover's pad run came in the sixth when Mike Giles reached on a fielder's choice, erasing Mike Tonelli (leadoff walk). Giles stole second, and scored when Powers laced a single that deflected off the pitcher's

Legion Post 8 struggles for crowded playoff berth

By Rick Harrison

The Andover American Legion Post 8 baseball team severely jeopardized its playoff chances earlier this week, with a costly 10-6 loss to Lynn Gautreau and an equally-damaging 6-6 tie with lowly Middleton on consecutive nights leaving the locals in a very precarious and vulnerable position.

Prior to that, in other recent games, Andover defeated Haverhill (8-6) and Gloucester (11-7).

Those results left Andover at 14-5-1 overall, including 9-5-1 in congested Essex County Zone 8A.

Andover was scheduled to play at Salem last night, and Post 8 completes the regular season with a meaningless non-league game on Saturday against Lawrence Post 15 at Mark Devlin Field.

Andover, Danvers and Haverhill are battling for the 8A title, which carries an automatic playoff berth. Danvers entered the week at 10-5 and Haverhill at 9-4 in league play.

Haverhill and Danvers were scheduled to play Tuesday night in a game that greatly impacted Post 8's chances.

There is also a wild card spot available to the non-titlewinner with the best league record.

The only way Andover can qualify is to beat Salem, have Haverhill beat Danvers and then lose its final two league games, or have Lynn Gautreau lose its final three games.

That scenario would leave Andover as Zone 8A champs with a 10-5-1 record for 21 points, one point ahead of Danvers and Haverhill (10-6) in the final standings.

If the contenders somehow finish tied in the standings it will come down to head-to-head competition. Andover defeated Haverhill but lost a disputed game to Danvers (Post 8 lodged a protest that was later denied).

The locals only chance to qualify as a wild card involves the unlikely combination of a Haverhill victory over Danvers and three Gautreau losses.

The playoffs will start within the next few days.

The State Tournament is in Lowell this summer (Aug. 5-11), with the Eastern Regionals in Middletown, Conn. in mid-August and the Legion World Series in Fargo, North Dakota.

Andover 11
Gloucester 7

Alex Marshall belted a pair of home runs, his team-high third and fourth of the season, to power Post 8 to victory at Gloucester.

Andover did most of its damage in two innings, scoring five runs in the second and four more in the fourth.

Marshall opened the five-run second stanza with a long inside-the-park home run to left-center, the gap shot rolling to the fence at the 420-foot mark.

Tom Gardner, making his first start after missing most of the season with a broken thumb, followed with a single. Matt Triconis reached on an error, Todd Harris walked to load the bases, and consecutive two-run singles were stroked by Hugh Quattlebaum and Brian Tisbert.

Andover made it 6-0 in the third when Rick Mendez singled, took third on Marshall's single to right field, and scored on a sacrifice fly by Gardner.

The four-run fourth opened with a walk to pinch-hitter Keith Grant. Harris also walked, Quattlebaum sacrificed the runners with a bunt, Grant scored on Tisbert's infield out, Mendez singled, and Marshall cleared the fence in right-center with a long three-run homer.

Andover's final run came in the sixth when Mendez reached on a two-out, two-base throwing error, took third on a wild pitch, and scored on a delayed double steal after Marshall walked.

Gloucester hung around with three runs in the third, two in the fifth and two in the sixth inning. But the host team trailed by at least three runs the whole way.

Aaron Flanagan (2-2) was perfect for two innings, struggled through a three-run Gloucester third, but earned the victory. Righthander Chris Kearn worked 2 ⅔ innings and lefty Ryan Jacobson 1 ⅓ in relief.

The Post 8 pitching trio combined for 10 strikeouts but also issued seven walks.

Marshall led the 11-hit attack with 3-for-3, Gardner laced a double and single, Quattlebaum and Mendez added two singles each, Kearn singled and Tisbert singled.

Center fielder Marshall and left fielder Quattlebaum both ended Gloucester rallies, and saved two runs, by gunning down one man each at the plate. Third baseman Mark Langone also made a great diving stop to his right and threw the runner out at first. .

Andover 8
Haverhill 6

This was a must victory for Post 8, which entered the contest at Haverhill Stadium trailing Haverhill Post 4 by one game in the league standings.

Righthander Alex Marshall (4-1 record) pitched the first 6 ⅓innings, yielding six hits while striking out three and walking four. He was relieved by Tom Clarke after surrendering a one-out double in the bottom of the seventh. Clarke earned the save by retiring the two batters he faced on grounders to second base and back to the mound.

Andover jumped to a 3-0 lead in the top of the first when Todd Harris and Hugh Quattlebaum singled, pulled a double steal, and scored on Brian Tisbert's single. Marshall then reached on an error and eventually crossed on Mark Langone's sac-fly.

Post 4 battled back to a 3-3 tie in the third, but Andover responded with four runs in the fourth.

Marshall belted a double, Langone walked, Matt Triconis laid down a sac-bunt, Dave Salafia ripped a run-scoring single, and Rob Busby was hit by a pitch. Harris clouted a two-run triple and then scored on Quattlebaum's single.

Haverhill bounced right back with three runs in the bottom of the fourth, making it 7-6, but Post 4 was shackled over the final three innings.

Andover registered an insurance run in the sixth, Harris lacing an RBI single after walks to Langone, Triconis and Mark O'Sullivan loaded the bases.

Harris finished the game with three hits, including a triple, while Quattlebaum and Tisbert contributed two singles each to the 10-hit attack. Marshall doubled, Langone singled and Salafia singled. Second baseman Tisbert and third baseman Langone were the defensive standoutsTisbert went 4-for-5 and Salafia 3-for-4 to lead the attack.

glove and rolled into shallow right.

Sheldon issued consecutive two-out walks in the Chelmsford sixth, but escaped on a grounder to second.

He retired Lupien 1-2-3 in the seventh, ending the game on an inside corner called third strike after the hitter battled Sheldon for eight pitches.

Powers led the six-hit Andover attack with two safeties.

Defensively, in addition to the triple play, first baseman Paul Wysocki dove to his right to stab a line drive and later dove to smother a grounder before flipping to Sheldon covering first.

MAJOR 11-12 DIVISION
Andover American 3
Haverhill American 0

Danny Hughes of the AL champion Indians fired a masterful one-hit shutout, as Andover American won its second straight tourney game and advanced to the winner's bracket semifinal against Lowell Highland.

Hughes was in total control, yielding only a bloop single in the bottom of the fourth while striking out six and walking one. Haverhill American also reached three times on Andover errors, as Hughes faced 22 batters (four over the six-inning minimum).

Hughes also provided himself with the only run necessary, snapping a scoreless tie with a one-out, bases-empty home run to right-center in the top of the third.

The winners added another run in the stanza when Jon Maloney doubled and Mike DaSilva lashed an RBI single.

The final insurance run came in the fifth without the benefit of a hit. DaSilva walked, advanced to third on two wild pitches, and then Brendan Gleason drew another of the eight free passes by the Haverhill pitcher.

On a pre-set play, Gleason continued around first base and purposely got caught in a rundown. As Gleason was being chased DaSilva scampered home with the final run.

Andover American threatened in the top of the first inning, loading the bases on consecutive game-opening walks to Geordie Miliotis, Chris Caverly and Hughes.

Defensive standouts for Andover American were second baseman Chris Cataldo, who initiated a sharp double play, and third baseman John Iorio with several assists.

Andover National 12
Methuen West 5

The Nationals (2-1) belted three home runs, one each by Jeff Marshall, Marty DeFrancisco and winning pitcher Rick Umlah, to power the two-hour loser's bracket victory over Methuen West at Deyermond Field.

Marshall's bases-empty homer to left-center came in the first inning, after speedy lefty batter Kevin Shepard manufactured a run on the first of his three bunt singles, two stolen bases and a wild pitch.

Methuen West tied it with two unearned runs before A-N batted around in the third and broke the game open with five runs. Shepard had another bunt single, Marshall walked, DeFrancisco and Umlah laced back-to-back RBI singles, and Nate Stoelzel belted a run-scoring double.

The Nationals made it 9-3 in the fourth as leadoff batter Justin Rego beat out an infield hit, took second on a passed ball, and scored when Shepard laid down a sacrifice bunt that produced a throwing error.

Shepard moved to third on a wild pitch and later stole home.

In the sixth Shepard beat out another bunt, and consecutive two-out opposite-field homers were clouted by lefty batter DeFrancisco (two-run blast to left) and righty swinger Umlah (solo shot over the right field fence).

Lefty reliever Shepard hurled a hitless sixth, sandwiching a hit batsman around two flyouts before ending the game with a strikeout.

Shepard led the 12-hit A-N attack with 3-for-3 and four runs scored. DeFrancisco (three RBI), Umlah (two RBI) and Marshall each finished with a homer, single and two runs scored, while Stoelzel had a double and single.

Little League All-Stars remain undefeated

By Rick Harrison

Righthander Mike DaSilva fired a one-hit shutout as the Andover American Major 11-12 year-old Little League All-Stars remained undefeated in District 14 Tournament play with a 3-0 winner's bracket semifinal victory over Lowell Highland Tuesday night at Poulin Field in Tewksbury.

DaSilva struck out nine, fanning the side in the second and fifth innings, walked two and threw only 76 pitches. He faced 19 batters, one over the six-inning minimum, as the Americans pulled off two double plays including one to end the game.

Andover, which managed only five hits, scored all three runs in the fourth when Chris Caverly drew a one-out walk, Danny Hughes ripped an RBI single to left, and Jon Maloney belted a two-run homer over the right-center field fence.

Hughes finished the game 2-for-2, while leadoff batter Geordie Miliotis and DaSilva added one single each.

Matt Watson's leadoff single in the third was the lone Highland hit, but center fielder Hughes gunned him down at second trying to stretch it to a double.

Infielders John Iorio (third base), Caverly (shortstop), Chris Cataldo (second base) and Maloney (first base) all played well defensively for the Americans.

Andover American, 3-0 overall, is one of three teams still alive in the original 20-team division and moves to a winner's bracket final on Saturday.

Andover Rocks finish soccer season as Essex County champions

The Andover Rocks, the Essex County Division II Under-12 girls champions, lost the final championship game in the Massachusetts Tournament of Champions over the June 24-26 weekend.

The Rocks played eight tournament games in 11 days.

A week earlier the Rocks, 6-0-2 in the regular season, qualified for the state tournament by winning the Essex County championship held at the Pingree School.

The girls swept Gloucester 4-0, North Andover 7-3 and Danvers 3-2 in the finals.

Andover 4 - Marshfield 0

Katie Kramer, assisted by Alice Gregory, scored at the three-minute mark. Lizzie Sullivan scored the second goal at the 21 minute mark, assisted by Allison Caffrey. Meghan O'Connell scored 11 minutes into the second half with an assist from Jessica Urbellis and Rachel Koffman closed the scoring at 17 minutes with an assist from Lisa Tylus.

Andover 1 - Dedham 1

The Rocks played Dedham, the representative of the Boston Area Division, to a 1-1 tie. Dedham led at the half, but Brittany Lonero, assisted by Joie Sawyer, tied the game with less than two minutes remaining.

The tie kept Andover in contention for a semifinal round spot.

Andover 3 - Tewksbury 0

The Rocks played Tewksbury, Middlesex County champions, in the last game of the preliminary round.

Goals were scored by Brittany Lonero, assisted by Allison Dexter and Alice Gregory; Katie Kramer, assisted by Liz Little; and Allison Caffrey, assisted by Kate Lombard.

The win secured a place for Andover in the semifinals and the B Division winner.

Andover 3 - Mariner 1

Andover played Mariner, the C Division winner from the South Coastal area, in the semifinals.

Katie Kramer, assisted by Meri Rawlinson and Megan O'Connell, scored about eight minutes into the game.

Lizzie Sullivan made it 2-0 four minutes later, with an assist from Brittany Lonero.

The Mariners scored midway through the second half but Kramer, assisted by Diane Liu, scored two minutes later for the win.

Dedham 0 - Andover 0

(Dedham won by shoot-out 3-2)

In the final game, the Rocks played the same Dedham team they had tied in the preliminary round.

Both teams played a tough, aggressive game.

The game was still 0-0 after two overtimes and the teams lined up for a shootout to decide the state championship.

Dedham won the shootout 3-2.

Rocks' goalie Katlin Hyde was honored at the awards ceremony with the Adidas Award for Outstanding Play.

The Rocks ended the season with a 17-2-3 record.

The players are Essex County Division II champions, runners-up in the Mass. State championships and runners-up in the tournament at Billerica.

Members are Allison Caffrey, Allison Dexter, Alice Gregory, Katlin Hyde, Rachel Koffman, Katie Kramer, Liz Little, Diane Liu, Kate Lombard, Brittany Lonero, Meghan O'Connell, Meri Rawlinson, Joie Sawyer, Lizzie Sullivan, Shannon Sweeney, Lisa Tylus and Jessica Urbellis.

The coach is Chip Gregory, assisted by Mark Sullivan and Cindy O'Connell.

10-year-old Little League All-Stars grab victories

By Rick Harrison

The Andover Little League 10-year-old All-Star team is marching towards a State championship, entering tonight's District 14 Tournament game at Haverhill American (5:45 p.m.) as one of four teams still undefeated in the double-elimination tourney.

Andover routed Lawrence Prospect Hill, 19-2, and beat Tewksbury American, 9-2, in its first two tourney games.

Since District 14 is the only section of Massachusetts holding a 10-year-old tourney, the winner will be declared the state champ.

The Andover 10s, directed by manager Chuck Hutzler and assistant coaches Roger White and John Vetrano, are also competing in the 30-team, six-division Chelmsford Invitational Tournament where they are currently 2-1.

Earlier this week, the Andover 10s also opened play in a third event, opposing Tewksbury American in the District 14 Tournament of Champions. That is a 20-team, two-division tourney in which each participant plays nine games in its division, with the two first place finishers squaring off for the title in mid-August.

Top hitters for Andover through five tournament games were Paul Skinner (.583), leadoff batter Chris Vetrano (.500) and Jarrett Mackin (.400).

District 14 Tournament

Andover batted around twice and scored 14 runs in a wild second inning that keyed the 19-2 romp over Prospect Hill.

The game, played at the Chandler Road field, was called after 4 ½ innings by the 10-run mercy rule.

Paul Skinner and Ryan Hutzler both laced two singles and scored three runs, Liam Shanahan had a double, single and scored three runs, and other offensive sparks were ignited by Jarrett Mackin (double, single), Jason White (single, scored twice) and Chris Vetrano (scored three runs).

Tom Haugh, Andrew Santos and White did the pitching with Haugh notching the win.

The pitching of Liam Shanahan, and a five-run third, keyed the 9-2 triumph over Tewksbury American at Poulin Field in Tewksbury.

Shanahan (2-0) fired a complete-game two-hitter, striking out 13 and walking three.

At the plate Paul Skinner had two doubles and one single, Evan Rossignol was 2-for-2 with a double, Paul Chiozzi and Chris Vetrano 2-for-2 with two runs scored, and Shanahan lashed two singles.

Paul Burke doubled and scored twice while Ryan Hutzler, Tom Haugh, Nick Stamas and Andrew Santos had one hit each. Jeremy Cohen was a defensive standout in the outfield.

Billerica National and Tewksbury National are the other undefeated teams.

Chelmsford Tournament

Liam Shanahan opened this tourney by pitching a brilliant perfect game, retiring all 18 batters he faced as Andover nipped Parkway National of West Roxbury 1-0.

Shanahan struck out 10 for the winners, who managed only one hit themselves.

Andover also defeated Methuen, 6-3, and lost to division leader Tyngsboro, 12-0.

Andover is scheduled to face Dracut tomorrow evening (5:30) at Scully Field in Chelmsford. If Tyngsboro wins its game this will be Andover's final outing in this tourney.

Andover Eagles capture first place in Division II soccer

Here are the results of the recent games played by the Andover Eagles. The team earned the Essex County Division II under-12 boys soccer championship.

Essex County Division II playoffs

Andover Eagles 7 - Gloucester 2

The Eagles received a first-round bye.

The Eagles scored first in this quarterfinal game with a shot by Chris Callison receiving a forward pass from Mike Weisner.

Gloucester scored a goal a minute later to tie the game.

Jonathan Konjoian and Weisner scored to give the Eagles a 3-1 lead at halftime.

The Eagles came out strong in the second half with Dan Cote scoring on a penalty kick.

Gloucester scored one more goal, but Cote scored again, Oliver Gregory scored two goals, one from a nice cross pass from Geof O'Donohue and a penalty kick to finish the game.

Andover Eagles 2 - Lynnfield Strikeforce 1

Neither team scored in the first half in this semifinal game.

The Eagles had many more shots on goal.

Early into the second half the Eagles were awarded a direct kick on goal as the result of a penalty called on Lynnfield outside the 18-yard line.

Dan Cote kicked a straight shot into the top of the net to score the first goal of the game.

Lynnfield scored a minute later to tie the game.

Both teams went back and forth the rest of the game with the Eagles holding a big offensive edge.

Mike Anderson made the save of the playoffs and the whole season midway through the second half when a Lynnfield right forward kicked a shot heading for the top left corner of the net.

With two minutes remaining, Jonathan Konjoian came down the right side of the field and shot the ball into the top corner to give the Eagles the lead.

The entire Eagle team stopped any final attempt by the Strikeforce to tie the game.

The goal proved to be the game winner.

The second-seed Eagles advanced to play in the final championship game against the fourth-seeded Ipswich Strikers.

Andover Eagles 2 - Ipswich Strikers 0

Both teams came out cautiously in the first half on what turned out to be an extremely hot day.

The Eagles held an edge offensively with Ipswich making some good attacks on goal.

Both teams had opportunities but the score remained 0-0 at halftime.

Almost half way through the second half Mike Weisner received a forward pass from midfield and put a shot into the net for the first goal of the game.

The Strikers tried to respond, but the Eagles would not allow it.

With about seven minutes remaining in this crucial game, Chris Callison shot on net with the Striker goalie making a good save but allowed the ball to bounce away from him.

Mike Hass shot the rebounding ball into the net to give the Eagles their second goal.

The entire team continued outstanding offense and tough defense for the rest of the game.

Mike Anderson, as in all his playoff games, played superb goal.

Owner Gene Marshall at the new Fryolator

HOMETOWN SEAFOODS

Owners Gene and Debbie Marshall and brother-in-law Mike Francis are pleased to announce that they have just installed Fryolator equipment to provide the freshest fried food possible. Only 100% pure cholesterol free vegetable oil is used. Fried seafood, French fries and onion rings are now available for takeout in a variety of combinations (plates, boats, rolls, boxes and sandwiches). Favorites among the many selections are clams, scallops, shrimp, haddock, crabmeat and lobster.

Hometown Seafoods offers their customers a large variety of seafoods, ready to eat prepared dinners, and frozen entrees. Gene Marshall picks up native fish daily at the wharves in Gloucester. He also takes regular trips to Boston for salmon, tuna, swordfish, red snapper, shrimp, clams, sea scallops and mussels to insure the freshest seafood available.

A tank stocked with live lobsters enables customers to choose their own. Hometown Seafoods will pack and ship lobsters throughout the country. These make special gifts to bring or send to those in land locked states. They also cook lobsters for the customers' convenience.

A case displays various ready made seafoods and accompaniments. Among the foods available are squid salad; crabmeat stuffed mushrooms; coleslaw; pasta salad; lobster; crabmeat stuffed filet of sole; stuffed potatoes, Maryland crab cakes; baked stuffed shrimp; crab and tuna rolls and three varieties of chowder. Ask about party platters made to your specifications. An extensive line of condiments is available, as well as dips, gourmet pastas and Belmont ice cream.

Frozen entrees are also carried. Among the favorites are Scrod Delizioso, haddock with herb dressing, frog legs, fish munchies, Creamed Fin Haddie and various dips.

Gene, Debbie and Mike are available for advice. They strive to accommodate special orders from your own personal "wish list" whenever possible.

Hometown Seafoods is located at 15 Barnard Street, Andover. They are open Monday, Tuesday, Wednesday and Saturday from 9:30 a.m. to 6:00 p.m. and Thursday and Friday until 7:30. Fried foods are available from 11:00 a.m. until closing Telephone: (508) 475-7426.

RICHARD'S FURNITURE

It is clear to their customers why Richard's Furniture of Lawrence is the only surviving store in the area. They honor a long tradition of customer service, quality furniture and reliability. They welcome trade-ins to assist customers when making new purchases. The same family has owned the store since 1949 and continue to provide the dependability and high quality for which they are known and respected. Richard's can be counted on to be the same yesterday, today and tomorrow.

Richard's Furniture tries their best to accommodate customers with speedy service and delivery. At Richard's, marked prices include free delivery (within a twenty mile radius) and setup with purchases of $250 or more. Typically, delivery can be made within a week.

Richard's Furniture can furnish an entire house from their Five Floors of furniture on display. They have the largest selection of household goods in the Merrimack Valley and stock all styles. They carry an extensive assortment of accessories, including lamps, curios and custom stained glass. Their wood furnishings are recognized for being the finest quality.

Richard's Furniture offers generous trade-in allowances for your used furniture. These pieces make up part of the inventory of their second-hand store, Richard's Used Furniture, across the street at 30 Water Street. This store is popular with college and prep school students, as well as people furnishing their first apartment or condo.

Richard's Furniture is offering a series of specials this summer. Call their office for further information.

For 90 days, 0% financing is offered. Lay-away plans are also available. Credit cards are honored.

Richard's Furniture is located at 25 Water Street (one block off Route 28), Lawrence. Hours are Monday, Thursday and Saturday 9:00 a.m. to 5:00 p.m. and Tuesday and Friday 9:00 a.m. to 7:00 p.m. They are closed on Wednesday and Sunday. Telephone: (508) 686-3903.

Local man sentenced to four months detention for IRS fraud

U.S. Attorney Donald K. Stern has announced that U.S. District Judge Rya W. Zobel sentenced Daniel N. Ford, 39, of 180 Andover St., to four months detention at a half-way house followed by four months home detention and ordered him to pay restitution to the U.S. Treasury.

At a previous hearing, Special Assistant U.S. Attorney John M. Hodgens Jr., a tax division trial attorney assigned to the economic crimes unit, informed the court that the government would have proved that Mr. Ford filed three false electronic federal income tax returns through H & R Block in Lawrence for three successive years and garnered more than $44,000 worth of income tax refunds from the U.S. Treasury, which he was not entitled to receive.

Mr. Ford claimed a $10,271 refund on income taxes "withheld" from his wages in 1991, when in fact there were no such withholdings.

Mr. Ford presented a Form W-2 Wage and Tax Statement for 1992 to H & R Block and claimed he had earned $67,600 from Toxicon Corporation in Woburn and had $21,719 withheld from his wages.

In fact, Mr. Ford was not employed by Toxicon during 1992 and did not earn wages approaching $60,000 or have $21,719 withheld from his wages. On the basis of the false W-2, H & R Block processed a refund of approximately $18,109.

Mr. Ford presented a Form W-2 Wages and Tax Statement for 1993 to H & R Block in February 1994 and claimed he had earned $81,000 from Toxicon and had $25,110 withheld from his wages. Mr. Ford did not work at Toxicon during 1993. On the basis of the false W-2, H & R Block processed a refund of approximately $20,239. All the refunds were paid into a bank account controlled by Mr. Ford.

Special agents of the Internal Revenue Service's Criminal Investigation Divison conducted the investigation.

MORTGAGEE'S SALE OF REAL ESTATE

By virtue and in execution of the Power of Sale contained in a certain mortgage given by Joseph M. Clementi and Thelma J. Clementi, Trustees of Dawn Realty Trust to First Essex Savings Bank, dated February 12, 1987 and recorded in the Essex County (Northern District) Registry of Deeds in Book 2430, Page 316, of which mortgage the undersigned is the present holder, for breach of conditions contained in said mortgage and for the purpose of foreclosing, the same will be sold at PUBLIC AUCTION on the mortgaged premises, known and numbered as 19-21 STERLING STREET, ANDOVER, MASSACHUSETTS, at 11:00 O'CLOCK A. M. ON AUGUST 23, 1995, being all and singular the premises described in said mortgage, to wit:

A certain parcel of land with the buildings thereon situated in that part of Andover in said County, known as Shawsheen Village and being the most Northerly lot as shown on a plan of land in Andover, Mass., as surveyed for Ernest F. Jones, drawn by D. J. McCracken, C. E., dated December, 1948, which plan is recorded in Essex North District Registry of Deeds as Plan No. 2011. Said lot is more particularly bounded and described as follows:

NORTHERLY One Hundred Twenty and 57/100 (120.57) feet, by land now or formerly of Hill;

EASTERLY Ninety-Six and 45/100 (96.45) feet, by land now or formerly of Ernest F. and Edward F. Jones;

SOUTHERLY One Hundred Twenty (120) feet as shown on said plan; and WESTERLY Eighty-Four and 72/100 (84.72) feet, by the Easterly line of Sterling Street as shown on said plan.

Containing 10,870.20 square feet, more or less.

Being the same premises conveyed to the mortgagors by deed dated November 27, 1985 and recorded at the Essex North District Registry of Deeds at Book 2088, Page 135.

The premises are to be sold subject to and with the benefit of all easements, covenants, restrictions, building and zoning laws, unpaid taxes, tax titles, water bills, municipal liens and assessments, rights of tenants and parties in possession, existing encumbrances and all other claims in the nature of liens having priority over the mortgage, if any there be. The premises are to be sold subject to the right of redemption of the United States of America, if any there be.

The mortgagee reserves the right to postpone the sale to such subsequent time and date as the mortgagee may deem advisable by public proclamation at the time and date appointed for the sale.

TERMS OF SALE: A deposit of Five Thousand ($5,000.00) Dollars will be required to be paid in cash or by certified check or bank treasurer's or cashier's check by the purchaser at the time and place of sale as earnest money to be held at the option of the mortgagee as liquidated damages for any breach by the buyer. The balance is to be paid in cash or by certified check or bank treasurer's or cashier's check within thirty (30) days thereafter, at which time the deed shall be delivered.

Other terms, if any, to be announced at sale.

PRAYER TO THE BLESSED VIRGIN. (never known to fail.) O most beautiful flower of Mount Carmel, fruitful vine, splendor of Heaven, Blessed Mother of the Son of God, Immaculate Virgin, assist me in my necessity. O star of the Sea, help me and show me here you are my mother. O Holy Mary, Mother of God, Queen of Heaven and Earth, I humbly beseach you from the bottom of my heart to secure me in my necessity (make request). There are none that can withstand your power. O Mary conceived without sin, pray for us who have recoursed to thee (3 times). Say this prayer for 3 consecutive days and then you must publish and it will be granted to you. P.B.

METHUEN
NEW EXCLUSIVE - This charming colonial with 3-4 bedrooms is neat & affordable. Gleaming hardwood floors, newer roof, boiler, storm windows & blown-in insulation. Great start home on quiet street for $70,000

"I would like to send this letter, just to let you know how happy I have been (with) Roger Collins...If it were not for the wonderful work of Roger, I would never have been able to buy my new home...Anytime I had a question, Roger was there. Where shall I look? Roger was there. From the first inspection, to the final closing, through it all...the bank, the lawyer, the seller, Roger was there."
A life long resident of Andover with 30 years in the real estate business, Roger Collins provides his clients and customers knowledgable service with a generous, caring spirit. A former Chairman of the Board of Selectmen and member of the Zoning Board of Appeals for seven years, Roger knows the Merrimack Valley well. He also has the unique ability to immediately put people at ease, listen to their needs and work with them to meet their goals.

Brides-to-be can avoid wedding day jitters

Tips to help the bride enjoy her special moment

The Wedding March begins. The bride takes her father's arm. The bouquet trembles in her hand. Family and friends rise and turn. All eyes are upon her. This is it — her wedding day.

From the moment her father lifts the veil until she waves farewell, the bride is in the spotlight. Taking the big step is stressful, but the added pressure of looking your best is enough to bring some brides to tears. How can brides-to-be put aside their wedding day jitters and look and feel beautiful? Following are a few tips for near-perfect nuptials:

• Marriage materials

Make- up and hair styling tools are obvious necessities for wedding day beauty, but don't forget to bring along some beauty lifesavers for last-minute touch-ups or emergencies. Cotton swabs, safety pins, scissors, bobby pins and moist towelettes can all come in handy. Items such as adhesive tape, which can be used to remove lint or temporarily hold a falling hem, are essential. When in doubt, go ahead and pack it. You'll be glad you did.

• Smooth transition

Making a smooth transition into married life begins with a smooth wedding day. Although there are no guarantees for the day, brides can ensure that their legs and underarms are smooth by getting a close, clean shave. Brides should shave the morning of the wedding with a fresh blade for the best results. Refillable shaving systems are preferred for the closest, most comfortable shave.

• Eat, sleep and be married

It's a fact — diet and sleeping habits affect the way you look and feel. Many brides are "too nervous" to eat and sleep the night before the wedding, but there is no more important time to do so. Eating a hearty breakfast the morning of the wedding is also a must — most brides are too busy greeting guests to actually enjoy the food at their own receptions.

• Eye dos

Even the most beauty-conscious brides often lose a wink or two the night before the wedding. If you do have tired eyes on your wedding day, remedy them with a natural healing agent. Tired eyes will benefit from eye pads made of chamomile tea bags, cucumber slices or cotton pads soaked in ice water.

• Give your hand in marriage

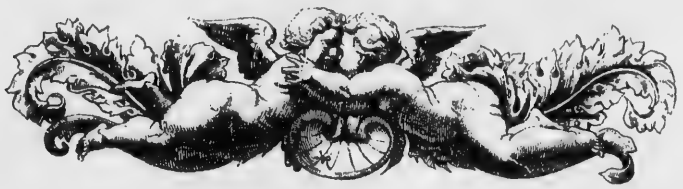

Before he slips the ring on your finger, make sure that hands and nails are in tip-top shape. For most brides, the wedding day is the first and only time to have hands photographed, so special attention should be taken. With little or no time for maintenance, a shorter or medium length nail is preferable. A French manicure or neutral polish is perfect to complete that special wedding day look.

• Blushing bride

A blushing bride should look like she's blushing, not like she's wearing too much blush. Makeup on your wedding day should make the most of you, not dominate your look. If you're having a professional apply your makeup, it's a good idea to have it done in advance to get a preview of what you will look like, discuss your preferences, etc. It's important that you feel special and look your best, but most important, that you be yourself.

Many brides are "too nervous" to eat and sleep the night before the wedding, but there is no more important time to do so.

Wedding costs are shared by all

Traditionally the costs of a wedding are borne by the bride, groom and the parents of both. Here is a listing of how those costs break down:

Bride...
- Her trousseau
- Wedding ring for the bridegroom
- Wedding gift for the bridegroom
- Presents for attendants
- Accommodations for attendants
- Personal stationery and calling cards
- Her medical examination.

If she is financially independent, the bride may assume any other of her family's traditional responsibilities.

Bridegroom...
- Bride's engagement and wedding rings
- The marriage license
- Gift for the bride
- Bride's bouquet and going away corsage
- Boutonnieres for men of wedding party
- Flowers for the mothers and grand mothers
- Gloves, ascots or ties for the men in the wedding party
- Gifts for ushers and best man
- Accommodations for best man and ushers
- Fee for clergyman.

Bride's family...
- Wedding invitations and enclosure cards
- Announcements
- Engagement and wedding photographs
- Rental for church
- Fees for the organist, soloist and sexton
- Aisle carpet
- Flowers for the church
- Bridesmaid's bouquets and flower headdress
- Gratuity for traffic police officers
- Transportation for bridal party from house to church and to reception.

Bridegroom's family...
- Clothes they wear to the wedding
- Any traveling expenses and hotel bills
- Wedding gift for the bride and bridegroom.

The dinner preceding or following the wedding rehearsal may be given by either the bride or bridegroom's family, or by both.

Honeymooning on a budget

Planning can control the pricetag

These days, every dollar counts. But scrimping on the ultimate "dream vacation" – the honeymoon – seems just a touch, well, unromantic.

"Emotions often get in the way of smart spending when planning a honeymoon," explains Sally Kilbridge, travel editor of Bride's & Your New Home. These practical steps encourage couples to set a 'honeymoon price tag' within their limits."

A few pointers from Bride's collection of valuable cost-cutters:

• Book your airline's fly-drive package if you're headed to Europe. Doing so will help you save substantially on the cost of a rental car.

• Research destinations with "shoulder-season" rates (between high and low season). For November newlyweds, the Caribbean is an economically wise choice; the Greek isles are ideal in May and October.

• Jump at a honeymoon package offering significant amenities such as a room up-grade or rental car. But think twice before paying extra for frills like a bottle of champagne, a fruit basket or a honey moon photo album.

• Find a lovely country inn within driving distance of home and spend your days browsing antique shops; you'll have the money to treat yourself to a new-found treasure while enjoying a cozy and affordable romantic getaway (book early; the most popular inns can fill up a year in advance).

• Determine how much you can afford to spend daily (subtract travel and hotel costs; divide the remainder by the number of days you'll be away) and prioritize what you want to do with your funds.

• Don't even think of touching the hotel's minibar; consuming the peanuts alone can add an extra $20 to your bill.

• Exchange money only in banks in a foreign country; a hotel's rate is usually higher. Over the course of a week, saving a fraction of a percentage can add up to a lunch for two.

• Pack enough film, toothpaste, suntan lotion, reading material; these items can cost double at a hotel's sundries shop.

• Register for your honeymoon if your travel agency has a bridal registry, so family and friends can contribute to the trip. (Etiquette note: Never announce where you're registered on the invitation; ask relatives to pass along the word.)

"These cost-cutting guidelines are designed both for couples who have traveled a good deal and for those who never handled the finances of a major trip before," notes Ms. Kilbridge. "Following these simple strategies will help couples keep finances in check, so they can concentrate on romance."

Pop the question creatively

Most couples get engaged in February, the month for valentines. However, you may be surprised to learn which month comes in second.

The people at American Greetings Creata-Card have compiled information suggesting that October was the second most popular choice among Americans popping the big question in 1994. How did they learn this? By looking at the buying habits of suitors choosing "Will You Marry Me?" cards produced on their 10,000 machines around the country. The cards allow senders to personalize and print cards at the simple touch of a keyboard screen. More than 45,000 Americans used the cards to propose marriage last year.

While the company doesn't record the suitors' names and messages, the machine usage can reveal interesting trends. For instance, Texas led the field with nearly 11 percent of all "Will You Marry Me?" cards purchased nationwide. California was a close second with almost nine percent. People in all 50 states as well as Washington, D.C. used the proposal cards in '94.

"Coming up with an unusual way to propose marriage is a part of the '90s," says Jack Chojnacki, CreataCard's vice president of creative and worldwide marketing. "Nowadays, it's an event in itself, but for those who can't afford to hire a skywriter or put up a billboard on Times Square, these cards provides a way to pop the question that is unique, but doesn't cost a fortune."

So, for those plagued with tongue-tied nerves and on-your-knees stage fright, there's a way to ask for her hand as eloquently as when practiced before a mirror and the card is the perfect cure for a raging case of speechlessness.

These highly popular greeting cards, introduced just three years ago, offers 2,500 different card possibilities and many of the cards are available in Spanish, as well as English.

The bride wants a canoe

The bride was sure of what she wanted for a wedding gift. Not crystal or silver, housewares, or any other traditional item.

This bride wanted a canoe.

Fortunately for her gift-giving friends, the bride was registered at L.L. Bean, that direct-mail stalwart whose rugged outdoor gear seems more suitable for hiking than walks down the aisle.

Even catalogs without a registry make it easy to buy a wide range of wedding-related products. Brides are choosing to order food, flowers, invitations and trousseau items - in short, nearly everything needed for a ceremony but their bridegrooms — by telephone.

If none of this seems traditional, neither does the modern bride. According to 1993 figures from the Census Bureau, the estimated median age at first marriage was 24.5 for women and 26.5 for men. And second marriages are more common. In nearly half of all recent marriages, one or both parties were married before.

"Today's bride has tremendous demands on her time," says Connie Heatley, head of the Direct Marketing Association Shop-At-Home Information Center. "She may have kids as well as a job. Now, she can plan a wedding over the phone, sitting at her kitchen table at 3 a.m., with catalogs in hand."

Pictures make memories

Your photographer is the key to beautiful ones

For photos that last a lifetime, choose carefully — here's how:

Your wedding is a once-in-a-lifetime event, but the photographs of your wedding day will last for generations. So choosing the person who will take all those pictures is one of the most important wedding decisions you'll make.

How do you decide on a photographer? Professional Photographers of America, a 14,000-member association for professional image-makers, has these suggestions.

Ask about style. Do you like journalistic pictures? Or is your style more whimsical, romantic or even classical? Ask potential photographers whether they will use the style that captures your personality best.

Look at samples. PPA suggests asking to see albums that show complete weddings from start to finish. After all, you want your wedding album to include all the important moments of your big day.

Ask about equipment. Make sure the photographer carries an extra camera in case one malfunctions and uses professional equipment.

The industry standard is a medium format camera, which produces negatives almost three times the size of those from an amateur 35mm camera. That's important because the size of the negatives can determine the quality and enlargement of the prints.

Meet the photographer. Discuss your budget and any special requests.

And remember, the photographer will be with you for most of the day. If you don't get along, it will show in the pictures.

Ask about starting and finishing times. Choose a photographer who will take as many photos as necessary to cover the event.

Still photos or videos? Still photography and videography are two very different mediums. Both require extensive training to produce high-quality results.

Check credentials. Select a photographer who belongs to professional associations. Associations keep their members up to date on the latest industry trends. Also, an association member will have a qualified backup if he or she becomes ill and can't photograph your wedding.

Your love is forever
So are diamonds

What better way to accentuate this wedding day look than with nature's most romantic of gems – diamonds. The brilliance of diamond jewelry creates an elegance perfect for a fall bride.

The romance begins at the fingertips as shown above with an intriguing oval solitaire diamond engagement ring. The classic diamond hoop earrings complete the ensemble making an alluring, yet graceful statement.

Diamonds are a groom's best friend

Just as ivy symbolizes fidelity in marriage, the diamond engagement ring has always been a symbol of love and commitment. Today's brides are increasingly choosing to give that special moment back to their groom with a man's diamond wedding band at marriage. While 90% of men receive a wedding band, sentiment is swaying towards diamonds. In 1992, over 40% of those surveyed felt that a man's diamond wedding band was more meaningful than a plain gold band. One in five men who receive a wedding band receive one with diamonds.

While diamond jewelry for men has been gaining ground, seeing a 64% increase since the mid-'80's, the diamond wedding band is the most popular. Last year, over 480,000 man's diamond wedding bands were sold.

Look your wedding best

There could be good news for many women with questions about how to look their best, especially for their up-coming wedding. Beauty expert Beth Barrick-Hickey has a comprehensive guide offering advice, not only on what to use to solve a beauty problem, but how to use it. "500 Beauty Solutions" has advice such as this:

• Over-moisturizing makes hair very limp. Hair that is over-proteined will be brittle and hard. Clarifying shampoos are the answer.

• Mousses work best by adding fullness and giving hair a lift. If you apply at the scalp, it can produce more fullness when damp hair is blown dry. A firm-hold hair spray will help keep fine hair in place.

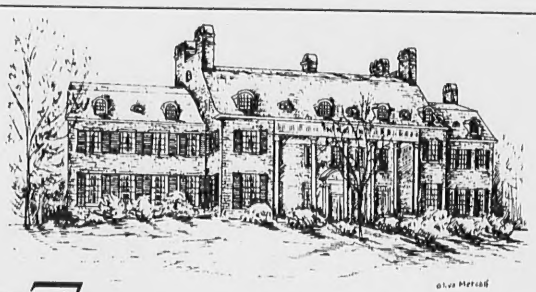

• Generally, curly hair should not be brushed unless you intend to straighten it. In that case, the best brush is a natural reinforced boar bristle brush.

• Massage cuticle cream, oil or lotion into scraggly cuticles. Then use a cuticle stick to gently push back the cuticle after you have softened it, which in most cases eliminates the need to trim the cuticle. If necessary, cuticle trimming should be left to the professional, who will use special stainless steel cuticle trimmers which come in different "jaw" sizes.

• When doing your nails, use one basecoat, two coats of your choice of polish and one topcoat.

• Shave your legs in the opposite direction to the way the hair grows. Use a razor made for women because the curved handle is easier to hold and seems to prevent nicks.

INN A CLASS BY ITSELF

• Located in a picturesque country setting on the campus of Phillips Academy, nothing matches the charm of the Andover Inn.

• When the invitation says: "Reception at the Andover Inn," you'll know it will be special.

FOR 120 YEARS, WOMEN'S HEALTH HAS BEEN AT THE HEART OF OUR MISSION.

Lawrence General Hospital was founded by women in 1875 out of concern for women laboring in the mills of the city and their children.

Today, women's health continues to be a key focus for us.

Through the Lawrence General Health System network of physicians, suburban centers, and Hospital, a woman can find the care and support she needs at every stage of her life.
